WEATHER

Sunny skies and warmer temperatures are expected today with a high near 65.

Top Of The Morning

WEATHER

The forecast today indicates sunny, warmer weather with wind and mild temperatures expected tonight. Today's high temperature reading should be near 68 degrees with the overnight low reading about 50. The extended forecast through Wednesday calls for temperatures to average above normal with high readings in the upper 60's and low readings in the upper 40's. It will be warmer over the weekend and continued warm during the early part of the week turning cooler by mid-week. Showers are expected starting early next week continuing throughout the period. The forecast for Saturday indicates sunny skies, warm temperatures and little chance of rain. Winds today will be from the south 15 to 20 mph increasing to 20 to 30 mph by tonight. Thursday's 7 a.m. report; high 57; low 28; there was a trace of precipitation. The river level was 4.3 feet and falling.

KINZUA DAM REPORT

Pool level 1318.39 feet. (Desired summer pool level 1328 feet; maximum 1365 feet). Outflow temperature 40 degrees. Upper reservoir 41 degrees. The reading at the Warren gauge 4.27 feet.

WARREN COUNTY

Warren County commissioners approve the sale of the voting house and land in Brokenstraw township and the payment of bills.

Two county men who were drafted together, trained together, fought together and discharged together receive Army commendation awards together.

Firemen throughout the county continue to be harassed by grass fires.

PENNSYLVANIA

A total of 1,213 Pennsylvanians serving in Army Reserve and Air National Guard units are called to active duty.

THE NATION

The United States balks as a North Vietnamese proposal for meetings in Warsaw; prefers neutral site rather than capital of Communist Poland.

The President signs into law the civil rights and open housing bill in a White House ceremony, exactly one week after King's assassination touches off looting and rioting across the land.

Congress starts second recess of 1968 Friday with civil rights bill rated top accomplishment of year to date; faces knotty problems when it reconvenes.

Officials in Kansas City tighten curfew regulations but decide against calling in more National Guard troops as city awaits a third straight night of racial violence.

Gov. Rockefeller says he thinks he could be elected President and that he is still available as a candidate if the party wants him.

Former President Harry S. Truman heads Democratic movement to elect Hubert H. Humphrey President.

Sen. Robert F. Kennedy calls for a "national impact project" to rebuild the nation's slum areas and put the poor to work—even at the expense of the race to the moon.

The FBI maintains steadfast silence in face of queries, rumors and reports about gun and bullet which killed Dr. Martin Luther King.

The looters in riot-struck communities around the United States often were not jobless hoodlums but working men or teenagers who grabbed goods when they had the opportunity.

About 24,500 Army, Navy and Air Force reservists are being called to active duty, Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford announces. About 10,000 of them will go to Vietnam.

THE WORLD

U.S. air cavalrymen battle vainly to reoccupy the Khe Sanh outpost of Lang Vei as the remainder of South Vietnam remains quiet.

SPORTS

Warren Area High's track and field men scored their second victory of the season Thursday at the cost of the Youngsville Eagles on the Youngsville cinders. The final score was 110-40. Coach Andy Randas' boys will face a stronger test next Tuesday when they host the Franklin Knights. Youngsville hosts Ridgway on the same day.

Calm and cool, Billy Casper marched to a one-stroke lead Thursday in the opening round of the Masters Golf Tournament at Augusta, Ga. He ran in six birdie putts (one from 55 feet) for a four-under par 68 to take the lead over favorite Jack Nicklaus who shot a 69.

Maury Wills shone again Thursday, but this time the Pittsburgh Pirates came through with a 3-1, 15th inning victory over the San Francisco Giants. The speedster's two-run single turned the trick.

Over in the American circuit Harmon Killebrew poked a 381-foot, tie-breaking homer for Minnesota as the Twins defeated Washington, 5-4.

MESSAGE OF HOPE

Christians throughout the nation and world today meditate on the crucifixion, climaxing six long weeks of Lent, but the shadow of the cross foretells the coming of Easter with its message of hope in the Resurrection of Christ.

U.S. Balks at Red Proposal To Hold Meetings in Warsaw

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States balked Thursday at a North Vietnamese proposal for meetings in Warsaw, saying it prefers a neutral site rather than the capital of Communist Poland.

The White House complained, too, about what it portrayed as Red efforts to score propaganda points in the jockeying over where to hold peace-talk preliminaries.

And it invited Hanoi to respond instead to an earlier U.S. proposition to get discussions going in a non aligned locale such as Burma, India, Indonesia or Laos.

Warsaw was not finally ruled out but the United States obviously will try hard for another site.

The failure of the opposing sides to agree on a location so far, more than a week after they publicly announced a readiness to talk, foreshadowed even greater difficulties for any real negotiations on ending the Southeast Asian conflict.

Christian said the U.S. government received a diplomatic message from Hanoi proposing Warsaw as the meeting place only after it had first read the item in a Tass dispatch.

"The United States government has proposed a number of neutral countries as possible sites for contacts and we have not yet had any response to this proposal," the White House spokesman said, adding:

"On serious matters of this kind it is important to conduct talks in a neutral atmosphere free to both sides.

"The selection of an appropriate site in neutral territory with adequate communications facilities should be achieved promptly through mutual agreement, and those acting in good faith will not seek to make this a matter of propaganda."

After U.S. rejection of an earlier Hanoi suggestion that the preliminary talks be held at Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, Tass commented pointedly that Johnson has said U.S. representatives would go anywhere, anytime to discuss peace.

In a talk June 16, 1966, to a group of state legislators, Johnson said "We are ready to talk anywhere, anytime, with any government. All they have to do to test us is name the place and the date. They will find us there."

The Communists, he pointed out, began withdrawing from around the once-besieged out-

24,500 Reservists Are Being Called To Active Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford on Thursday called up 24,500 reservists, 10,000 of whom will go to Vietnam under the first announced reserve mobilization for the war.

It will bring the authorized U.S. manpower ceiling there to 549,500, but Clifford said the South Vietnamese Army is being geared to take over the major part of the fighting.

At the same time the new defense chief indicated clearly the administration is watching the implications of its partial halt to the bombing of North Vietnam as well as the possibilities of a full cessation.

The reserve call-up affects 88 Army, Navy and Air Force Reserve and Guard units in 34 states. The men are being notified immediately to report to duty within 30 days for up to 24 months' service.

The Army is calling 20,000 men in 76 Guard and Reserve outfits.

The Navy is calling 1,000 in two Reserve units which will rotate between the United States and Southeast Asia.

The Air Force is mustering 3,500 in 10 Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve units. One third of these will go to Southeast Asia.

Aside from this "no decision has been made at this time as to whether additional reserve forces will be called," Clifford declared in his first formal news conference since succeeding Robert S. McNamara six weeks ago.

"The President has made an offer to Hanoi to start a planned program of de-escalation."

About 10 days ago defense officials said an over-all call-up of 60,000 to 65,000 might be in order in coming months, mainly to bolster the nation's home-based strategic reserve pool.

But of the 24,500 only about 14,500 will be used to beef up the home-front forces and the implication is that perhaps no larger call up for this purpose may be necessary.

On the administration's current move to make peace with Hanoi, Clifford wouldn't give his "private opinion" on how the discussions may turn out. But he said he doesn't think the North Vietnamese pullout from threatening positions around Khe Sanh is linked to Hanoi's change of mind toward negotiations.

The Communists, he pointed out, began withdrawing from around the once-besieged outpost 19 days before President Johnson announced his partial bomb halt March 31.

"They were in the process of being destroyed," Clifford said, adding the Communist military position was "becoming increasingly untenable."

Clifford linked the new U.S. manpower limit to a policy decision to let South Vietnam fight more of the war. He said the decision came after months of deliberations and took into account Saigon's move to add 135,000 men to its forces.

Clifford called it a long-range plan and said:

"I would visualize that when the South Vietnamese troops are ready, that they could be moved into areas where the combat was taking place so that they could supplant some of the American troops."

1,213 Pennsylvanians Among Those Recalled

HARRISBURG (AP) — A total of 1,213 Pennsylvanians serving in Army Reserve and Air National Guard units were called to active duty Thursday by President Johnson.

The Pennsylvania forces were part of 24,500 Army, Navy and Air Force reservists across the nation activated by the President. Some 10,000 of them are to be sent to South Vietnam.

The largest Pennsylvania unit — and the only National Guard outfit involved in the call-up in this state — was the 171st Aero Medical Airlift Group, with 760 men, stationed at the Greater Pittsburgh Airport.

News of the 171st's call-up was announced in Harrisburg, through Gov. Shafer's office, by Acting State Adj. Gen. Richard Snyder.

Gen. Snyder said the unit, which has eight C121 Super Constellation aircraft assigned to it, would be activated on May 13 and assigned to the U.S. Air Force Military Airlift Command.

Snyder, whose statements were released through aides, could not be reached for comment on the activation order.

A spokesman for Gov. Shafer said the state's chief executive would have no immediate comment on the call-up.

Washington sources identified these Pennsylvania Army Reserve units as affected by the activation order:

350th Medical Detachment, orthopedics, Philadelphia, seven men.

357th Transportation Co., aircraft maintenance, Greencastle, Franklin County, 260 men.

630th Transportation Co., medium trucks and cargo, Washington, Pa., 186 men.

LBJ Signs Open Housing, Civil Rights Bill Into Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law the civil rights and open housing bill Thursday in a White House ceremony exactly one week after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. touched off looting and rioting in slums across the land.

"Now with this bill, the voice of justice speaks again," Johnson told scores of civil rights leaders, government officials, and members of Congress who crowded the East Room for the ceremony.

The bill, on which the House completed congressional action Wednesday, makes it a federal crime to interfere with anyone trying to exercise his civil rights.

When fully effective in 1970 it will outlaw discrimination in the sale and rental of 80 per cent of the nation's housing units.

The applause that greeted the President and Mrs. Johnson as they entered the East Room was loud, enthusiastic and sustained — far different from the polite handclapping normally heard on ceremonial occasions.

There was another outburst of applause when Johnson declared the whole nation to have been outraged by the violence visited on civil rights advocates and particularly by the slaying of the Negro apostle of nonviolence who, he recalled, was present in the White House two years ago when Johnson signed his message to Congress calling for a federal open housing law.

Almost Alike As 'Two Peas in A Pod'

Two Warren County men, who were drafted together, took basic training together, went to Vietnam together and were discharged together on Thursday were awarded Army Commendation Medals together.

Sp-5 William O. Weidner of Sheffield and Sp-4 Bruce A. Phillips of Russell received their medals and citations from Maj. Ernest S. Ellis from the U.S. Army Reserve Center in Erie, who was in Warren for the impressive occasion.

Weidner's citation was for meritorious service in support of United States objectives in Vietnam from September 1966 until 1967 while serving as a member of H & H Company, 1st Bde. He performed his duties as Chaplain's Assistant in an outstanding manner and his knowledge and skill and loyalty proved to be invaluable assets.

Specialist Weidner devoted long and arduous hours under adverse weather and combat conditions in his contributions to the success of the 4th Infantry Division mission in Vietnam.

Specialist Phillips was cited for meritorious service in Vietnam between May and June of 1967 while serving with the Chaplain Section, H & H Company, 1st Bde., 4th Inf. when he volunteered to assume the responsibility of designing and constructing a temporary chapel for the 1st Bde. area.

Working with units of the brigade, he secured basic materials to initiate the project and began building the exterior and interior. With rare creativity and resourcefulness, he fashioned the Chapel furnishings including an altar. He worked many hours of his free time and spent his own funds to enhance the area.

Both ex-servicemen entered the Army Dec. 1, 1965 and were discharged Sept. 6, 1967, Bruce transferred to the Chaplains Section after seven months in the infantry.

After presenting the army commendation medals to the county men at the Times-Mirror and Observer editorial office, Maj. Ellis headed for the Titusville area to award third through ninth Oak Leaf Cluster to Sp-4 Ronald E. Anthony, RD 3, Titusville.

Anthony's citation was for distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement while participating in sustained aerial flight in support of combat ground troops in Vietnam from November 1966 to May 21, 1967.

During this time he actively participated in more than 25 aerial missions over hostile territory. During all of these missions he displayed the highest order of air discipline and acted in accordance with the best traditions of the service. Specialist Anthony served with the Medical Corps in evacuation of the wounded, Maj. Ellis stated.

Con Con Booklets Available at Banks

One thousand 80-page booklets which detail the proposals for revisions of the constitutional amendments of the Pennsylvania constitution are presently available to area residents at both Pennsylvania Bank and Trust Co. and Warren National Bank and their branches, according to an announcement made Thursday. The booklets have been made available through the courtesy of Warren County Chamber of Commerce.

Brewer Declares For Richard Nixon

W. S. Brewer made the statement in his bid as candidate for delegate to the National Republican Convention that in true conscience he could not vote for Gov. Shafer as a favorite son, but if elected would vote on the first ballot for Richard M. Nixon.

Brewer concluded that he wanted to be a voice of the Republican voters in the 23rd Congressional District, not the echo of one man.

Sale of Brokenstraw Polling Place Approved

The Warren County Commissioners on Thursday approved the sale of the voting house and land in Brokenstraw township and payment of bills in the amount of $3,382.96.

The property in question served as a polling place for voters in Brokenstraw I and is in a dilapidated state. There are no facilities and the land covers a very small area. The land was purchased for $100 by Paul and Iva Langdon, who own property adjacent on both sides and behind the county land.

Voters in Brokenstraw will now cast their ballots at the Youngsville Elementary school.

The commissioners advised they had been contacted by the Sheffield Chamber of Commerce in regard to financial assistance for the Johnny Appleseed Fall Festival. The commissioners are exploring other agencies who might help.

An official of the Pennsylvania Railroad is expected to confer with the commissioners about cleaning ditches out in the Tiona-Weldbank area since water is backing up and causing problems.

Chairman Dr. David K. Rice stated he would like to see more citizen participation at regular meetings of the county planning commission due to the fact the body is responsible for many important policies. Planners meet Thursday, April 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the third floor jury room at the court house.

The commissioners have also agreed to utilize the facilities of the Hoffman Home as a temporary haven for burned out families who have no place else to go, provided space is available. Capt. Albert Carter of the Salvation Army has been advised of the decision.

The commissioners on Monday, April 22, as members of the county board of election will distribute election materials to judges of election in the various voting precinct. Letters have been sent the election officials requesting that someone be at home on that date to sign for the supplies.

HHH Will Take 'Our Message' To Country

BATON ROUGE, La., (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, on the brink of plunging into the presidential race, pledged Thursday night to do "everything I can" to sustain and carry forward the work of what he calls the Johnson-Humphrey administration.

"I ask your help—and the help of all Americans—in doing this," Humphrey said.

His speech was prepared for the Louisiana AFL-CIO here.

The vice president, who plans to announce his candidacy after Easter made it clear he intends to run on the record of the present Democratic administration.

"I do not intend to disavow either President Johnson or the Johnson-Humphrey Administration," he said.

"I intend to stand up for the promises we have kept. I intend to take our message to the country—an affirmative, positive, hopeful message."

Humphrey called for national unity at home and abroad and said: "We must put our differences behind us."

Referring to the murder of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., and the ensuing violence in many American cities, Humphrey said "It is time in America for a permanent moratorium on the in-fighting in a town or a city, a moratorium on the vocabulary of violence."

"It is time in America for a permanent moratorium on violence itself—violence in the streets, violence in the lives of our people," he said, adding "It is time for reconciliation. It is time for healing and unity."

April Blood Donors Urgently Needed

It was learned today from Howard Lauffenburger, Red Cross blood program chairman, that the April 17 Bloodmobile visit to Warren is of utmost importance. The local chapter is behind in its scheduled quota of blood for the fiscal year. Unless the quota is met, Warren County will not be eligible for the maximum allotment of blood if an emergency were to arise.

Red Cross officials hope that at least 200 pints of blood are collected between 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the chapter house, 404 Market st., on the 17th. This goal can not be met without the full cooperation of previous blood donors and a new group of interested people who wish to donate blood for the first time. Every Warren County resident is urged to support the April Bloodmobile visit.

Rockefeller Says He Thinks He Could Win Election

NEW YORK (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said Thursday he thinks he could be elected president and that he still is available as a candidate if the Republican party wants him.

"I am a Republican and therefore am available to the Republican party," Rockefeller told a news conference at about the same time a band of his GOP supporters were embarking in Washington on a new effort to gain his nomination.

The three-term governor of New York was asked if he thought he could win election if nominated, Rockefeller replied: "If I didn't think so I wouldn't be here."

Despite his apparent withdrawal from contention March 21, Rockefeller then was asked, did he still want to be president? He said: "If the party wants me, the answer is yes."

Since Rockefeller's statement of four weeks ago, President Johnson has announced he will not seek re-election. This has triggered renewed activity in the Rockefeller camp and with it speculation that he may be preparing for a more active pursuit of the Republican nomination.

The only outwardly active campaigner at the moment is former Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Rockefeller said he is not changing the position he took March 21. He said he always has been available and added: "I would like to serve my country."

In a drive to head off racial violence this summer, stickers such as these are being distributed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). The "prevent riots" stickers and an instruction kit will be sent to each of the association's 1,500 chapters throughout the country.

Jamestown Firemen Picket City Hall; Seek Pay Hikes

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Jamestown firemen carried their fight for a new wage contract into the street in front of city hall Thursday. Six off duty firefighters picketed city hall from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. They carried placards stating the wage requests of the firemen for a contract with the city.

Richard Rosenshrader, president of the fire department's Morton's Club, said the march was to emphasize the club's desire for approval of the wage pact. The Morton Club has been designated as the official bargaining agent for the firefighters under New York state's Taylor law, which for the first time this year, permits collective bargaining between public employees and their employer. The Jamestown fire eaters say they want a 10 per cent pay hike similar to that granted earlier this week to city policemen, but the city council is only willing to grant a five per cent increase.

In a letter to Mayor Charles B. Magnuson the Morton club protested on Wednesday of this week the lack of a contract and labelled the Magnuson administration "narrow minded."

Rosenshrader said, the firemen will not picket over the Easter weekend, but will resume their march Monday morning at city hall and will continue throughout the day until after the city council meeting Monday night.

Wall St. Journal

Article Has Special Interest

Mr. and Mrs. Don Taft of Warren have a particular interest in the Wall Street Journal, particularly the April 3 issue which carries a byline by Douglas Bedell, special correspondent to the publication. Bedell is the Taft's son-in-law and is married to the former Dawn O. Taft, a former chemistry teacher at Warren High School for three years and one-time Warren Community Ambassador to Switzerland.

The Bedell's have three boys and reside at 3309 Hamilton st., Philadelphia.

Doug worked for the Philadelphia Bulletin for several years, took a job on the Wall Street Journal for two years and on April 1, 1968 returned to the Bulletin as an editor.

The April 3 story deals with the Franklin mint in the suburbs of Philadelphia, termed "the nation's only publicly owned private mint," according to the president of General Numismatics Corp. The mint makes silver-dollar sized sterling silver commemorative medals.

Officials at the Treasury Department's U.S. Mint in Philadelphia have taken a dim view of use of the word "mint" particularly a private mint.

Egg Hunt Set for Sat.

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — The annual Easter egg hunt co-sponsored by the city recreation department and the J. C. Kelso stores will be held at 10:30 Saturday morning in Allen Park.

Russell Dietrich, director of the city Parks and Recreation Department said the Easter egg hunt will be divided into two sections. Dietrich said, children from five to eight years old will hunt for their eggs in the lower section of the park, while youngsters nine to 12 will hunt in the upper section. He said the starting line for both groups will be Cole ave.

Burn Victim Still In Guarded Condition

Miss Amanda Peterson, 90, admitted to Warren General Hospital Monday suffering burns of the upper part of her body remained in guarded condition Thursday, according to a hospital spokesman. Miss Peterson was burned when her clothing caught fire after she had apparently bumped into a kitchen stove at the home of her nephew Ralph Johnson, 107 Beatty st., according to borough firemen.

RFK Calls for Top-Priority Reconstruction Program

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy called Thursday for a top-priority national reconstruction program that would take precedence over the race to the moon.

As Kennedy was speaking, state and city police rushed to an underground parking ramp in the hotel where he was addressing a luncheon. The officers had received reports that a man carrying a rifle was seen in the area. After a thorough search, a police official said the reports were unfounded.

Kennedy called his program a "national impact project" and said it would "put men to work, restore possibility to the young and give the residents of the ghetto some sense that the nation is committed to the fulfillment of his hopes."

The New York Democrat outlined his answer to the urban violence that followed the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King as he brought his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination to Michigan, crucial to his hopes with its 96 national convention delegates.

Unlike Indiana, where Kennedy has been campaigning for the May 7 primary, Michigan does not have a primary election but will choose its delegates in May and June at district and county conventions and caucuses.

Kennedy won an enthusiastic reception from hundreds who greeted him at the airport and hundreds more who lined the downtown streets of the capital as he arrived to address his business and professional leaders at the luncheon.

For his proposed national reconstruction program—most elements of which he has urged before—Kennedy said, "We can find the money in programs already authorized. We can slow down the race to the moon, if it means the salvation of our nation on earth."

"We can postpone work on the supersonic transport, if it means that we can safely sit still in our cities. We can adjust our research and development programs, now running into the billions of dollars, if it allows us to search for purpose and human dignity within our own communities," he said.

To achieve reconstruction, Kennedy said, "We can press our efforts for an early end to the war in Vietnam"—and then channel the $30 billion annual cost of that war into the "service of our domestic peace."

Election Injunction Refused

HARRISBURG (AP) — Commonwealth Court refused Thursday to grant a preliminary injunction barring the five proposals of the Constitutional Convention from being submitted to the voters in the April 23 primary election.

A complaint seeking to prohibit the secretary of the commonwealth from presenting the questions to the electorate was argued before the six-man court by James Beasley, a Philadelphia attorney.

The action was brought by two taxpayers, Irvin Stander of Philadelphia and Alexander H. Lindsay of Route 1, Freeport.

Beasley contended that the legislation creating the convention was invalid because it violated the constitutional provision which requires all changes to the state's basic law to be advertised once in each of the three months preceding the election.

The convention act required only that the proposals be advertised during the first week of April, Beasley complained, declaring:

"I don't think that is adequate notice to the populace."

Atty. Gen. William C. Sennett countered that it was too late to halt the machinery which had been set in motion for the referendum.

"The secretary of the commonwealth already had done everything that was required of him," Sennett argued. "This complaint asks you to restrain something that already has been accomplished."

In addition, Sennett contended the convention act did not violate the constitutional advertising requirements since the voters approved the implementing legislation last May.

The court denied the injunction request without comment.

The judges also were critical of the timing of the complaint.

"You are asking for an extraordinary remedy," commented President Judge Homer L. Kreider. "What's the court to do here? You knew over a year ago what this (convention) legislation provided."

30 'Search and Aid' Teams Set For Easter Weekend

The State Highway Department will be sending out 30 special equipped vehicles on a "search and aid" mission during the Easter Holiday weekend.

The emergency patrol, which will consist of two-man teams in 30 pickup trucks, will be hunting stranded motorists or those involved in accidents where speed in getting additional assistance could be vital.

Patrols will be in operations eight hours today (Friday) from 4 p.m. to midnight and 12 hours Sunday from noon until midnight.

Highways Secretary Robert G. Barlett urges motorists traveling during the first holiday of the "tourist season" to have their vehicles in good operating conditions. "Preparedness," he said, "can be the difference between an enjoyable holiday and one of difficulty."

Moscow has been the capital of Russia since 1918, following the revolution of 1917.

About ten million convention guests visit hotels to attend 18,000 meetings annually.

HST Named Honorary Head Of Democrats for Humphrey

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Harry S. Truman is honorary head of a Democratic group formed Thursday to get Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey elected president.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota announced the founding of United Democrats for Humphrey and the conviction of its sponsors that the vice president will "declare his candidacy in the near future."

Several members of the group, which lists two mayors, a governor, two senators and five members of the House, joined Mondale at a news conference devoted to promoting Humphrey.

Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma described him "as our best and strongest candidate whose main strength is his appeal to a wide variety of people."

Rep. Chet Holifield of California said Humphrey can "knit a divided country and move it again in the right direction."

Other members of the group at the conference were Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of Texas, Mayor A. J. Cervantes of St. Louis, Mo., Robert R. Nathan, an early leader, with Humphrey, of Americans for Democratic Action, and Robert Partridge, general manager of the National Rural Electric Cooperative Association.

The group first listed Tennessee's Gov. Buford Ellington as one of the members of its organizing committee, but Kenneth M. Birkhead, executive director, said inclusion of Ellington's name was a "very bad clerical error."

In Nashville, Ellington said: "I have no knowledge of being placed on any campaign committee, and I have not declared my support for any candidate at this time."

Other listed sponsors of the group include Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. of Atlanta; Gov. William L. Guy of North Dakota, former Gov. Terry Sanford of North Carolina; Reps. Hale Boggs of Louisiana, assistant majority leader of the House; Clement J. Zablocki of Wisconsin; James G. O'Hara of Michigan; James A. Farley, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee; Ben W. Heineman, chairman of the Chicago and Northwestern Railway Co.; George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, former Sen. William Benton.

Sporadic Sniping Breaks Out On Kansas City's East Side

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sporadic sniping broke out again Thursday in the third night of disorder on Kansas City's east side.

The sniping was reported around the police and National Guard command post at Linwood Boulevard and the Paseo, and three blocks to the south, at Armour and the Paseo. A man was arrested in the vicinity with a rifle.

Police Lt. Frank Kohler said one boy has been accidentally wounded, and that a fireman fighting a blaze in the district was injured in a fall.

Twenty-three arrests in two hours were reported by police. Eight fire alarms kept firemen busy.

"The situation is not nearly as serious as it was last night," Kohler said. Five persons were killed Wednesday night.

Mayor Ilus W. Davis imposed a third consecutive curfew from 7 p. m. until 6 a. m.

Sales of guns, ammunition and gasoline in containers were halted and liquor stores, taverns and service stations closed at 5 p. m. Similar curfews were adopted in the suburbs.

Missouri Gov. Warren E. Hearnes conferred with the mayor and said the nearly 3,000 Guardsmen could handle the situation.

Over 1,000 Kansas National Guardsmen are on alert in adjacent Kansas City, Kan.

Hearnes said the Missouri Guard has about 1,300 other men it could call to reinforce 940 policemen and 200 highway patrolmen.

The governor defended Kansas City police from criticism by Negro leaders and some white clergymen that police touched off the trouble by using tear gas too readily.

"Some people feel the police are too soft, others think they ought to do away with their weapons and just talk to them," Hearnes said. "I would imagine most people in Kansas City would be in between."

Mrs. Sue Hart, chairman of a 50-member branch of the biracial Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, criticized what she termed the "hasty and ill-conceived use of tear gas on high school young people."

But 125 members of the Navy League council, the Association of the U. S. Army and the Air Force Association met jointly Thursday and unanimously commended Police Chief Clarence M. Kelley and his men.

"Men of action always have their carping and whining critics," the statement said.

Clashes began Tuesday when police used tear gas to break up a crowd of youths who marched on City Hall on the day of funeral for Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

One Negro man was killed by police Tuesday night and five more were shot to death Wednesday night. The dead included a clergyman and his 16-year-old son.

Police said one of the five killed Wednesday night was shot in a gun battle with officers, and the other four were killed by unknown persons during crossfire with snipers.

Fires, most of them blamed on fire bombs, did an estimated $500,000 damage in the Negro district Wednesday night. Firemen said they answered 67 calls and had to ignore as many more for lack of manpower.

Three Guardsmen and one fireman were injured.

More than 400 persons have been arrested.

Up to All Citizens

The Warren County Chamber of Commerce has prepared and is about to initiate an intensive program that is designed to promote Warren County's tremendous potential for economic growth. It is a comprehensive listing of a wide variety of means and methods that can be employed to reach a number of specific goals.

The effort is highly commendable. Yet, it is essential that the directors of the Chamber realize that until the benefits of this ambitious program can be filtered down to the individual businessmen and industrialists of the community, little credit will be theirs. That only when definite and tangible gains can be counted will the program be accepted as a successful project.

On the other hand, the responsibility for the success of the program should not be allowed to rest on the shoulders of the few men who devoted a lot of time and effort to formulating it. It's overall success is just as much the responsibility of the entire community, and is a special responsibility of those who would gain the most if eventually the desired goals are achieved.

Everyone stands to gain if this worthy program can be pushed to its ultimate limits for economic gain. Just as every one stands to lose if it falls by the wayside through lack of support.

The Warren County Chamber of Commerce is offering the plan and program needed to assure the future prosperity of the county—it is up to Warren County citizens to furnish the support that will be needed to bring the aims of the Chamber's directors to fulfillment.

Case of Nelson Rockefeller

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK—Governor Nelson Rockefeller of New York is beginning to move, slowly and cautiously, toward the presidency. He put together the nucleus of a campaign staff this week. He will start speaking out on national issues at the newspaper editors meeting in Washington next week, and he is now expressing confidence that he will win the election if only he can get the nomination.

This is a very large "if," but it is interesting that the men around Senator Robert Kennedy are saying the same thing. They are confident that Kennedy can defeat former Vice President Nixon, but not Rockefeller, and many political observers are inclined to agree.

Rockefeller's posture at this point is a little awkward. He is not running but backing into the future. Noncampaign is essentially negative. He is counting on the weaknesses of Kennedy and Nixon. Maybe, he thinks, the reluctant conservative Republicans will come over to him rather than see Nixon lose to Kennedy.

It is not, of course, too late for Rockefeller to become an important factor in the race. His failure to enter the primary elections and test his strength against Nixon is a handicap, but General Eisenhower ignored the primaries in 1952, didn't even come home from Europe until June of that year, and still managed to give the Republicans the only presidential victories they have had in the last 35 years.

The paradox of Rockefeller is that he has a better chance of unifying the country than of unifying his party, and of winning the election than of winning the nomination. He stands on the left of the majority of the Republicans but to the right of Vice President Humphrey and Senator Kennedy; yet not so far to the right that he could not get powerful support from the progressive forces of both parties and the independents as well.

The case for Rockefeller, other than the theory that he can attract enough non-Republican votes to win, rests on his New York base and his experience. He has been dealing with the savage perplexities of the cities for longer than any other candidate with the possible exception of Humphrey.

He is much more popular with labor, the Negroes and other minority groups than Nixon. His experience in foreign affairs and particularly with Latin American affairs, stretches back a quarter of a century to the days of the war when he was assistant Secretary of State. And he has demonstrated the art of attracting and keeping highly talented men in the public service.

Rockefeller is not as strong as Nixon in the middle west, the mountain states, and the south, he is poison to the Goldwater conservatives, who still have not forgiven him for running out on them in the 1964 election. But his chances of carrying the Big States is thought as this point to be good, and nobody has ever won the presidency while losing both New York and California, where Nixon, despite his connections with both states, is not wildly popular.

Much will depend on whether he can command great audiences for the series of speeches he is now planning, and what themes he develops in these speeches. If the present outcry in the country is a reliable guide, the people will respond to the themes of reappraisal and reconciliation. The violence and brutality of the last two years seem to have produced a longing for calmer voices, more realistic goals abroad and more compassionate policies at home.

In fact the strife overseas and in the cities of America has made narrow party strife, on top of all this, very hard to bear. The problems before the country are serious enough now to challenge the energy and brains of both parties and all the major power centers of the nation, and anyone who shows the capacity to mobilize an effective working majority of leaders in these fields—in effect to lead a truly national government—could still carry the election.

This is one reason for Senator McCarthy's success so far: He is calm and he is calling for reappraisal and reconciliation. His handicap is that he is weakest in the cities where the election will be won or lost. And this is Rockefeller's greatest opportunity.

He is starting very late. His organization is weak, and even the progressive Republican governors have not yet come over strongly to his side. But he has a chance. He has stayed out of the primary battles because he could not have gone in without dividing his minority party, but there is no doubt that he is available. He will not make it on his own, no matter how well or wisely he speaks. The decision is up to the rank and file of his party, for the pros will never choose him except under pressure from below.

Dear Sir:

We read in your newspaper that America and Americans "deplore" the murder of Dr. King. (Mr. James Reston uses the word "appalled" while other reporters use other words meaning approximately the same thing).

There is in my mind a considerable question as to the accuracy of these words, although I would hope that they are correct, despite the fact that each day I hear sentiment expressed, which fails to corroborate the above. Most of these sentiments amount to "so what—they shot another nigger."

Let us hope and pray that these people do not speak for the majority of our citizens, for if they do there is no hope for ours or other future generations.

I am especially disturbed that all too many of these misguided people belong to our so-called "educated elite," that is they have had the benefit of higher education. This fact would seem to refute the often-worked cliché that the answer to all of our problems is more education for more people. For although I am sure this is a desirable ideal at which to aim, it would not seem to be the ultimate solution to the evils of prejudice and bigotry. It would appear that the roots of these evils are too deeply implanted in many persons to be eradicated by a college diploma. It is perhaps well to bear in mind that many of Hitler's Nazi followers held college degrees, including many of the officer corps of the S.S.

At this time of year when so many Americans mourn (or pretend to) the death of their Messiah on a cross, it seems somehow most unifying to be cursing ones fellow men, because of their color or the actions of a lunatic minority. Also, it is most difficult to comprehend, how any American can see any good in the death of any of their number, at the hands of a madman. I am sure that some of Martin Luther King's preaching was slanted or oriented in favor of the people of his race, which should not be too difficult for even some of our less observing citizens to comprehend. However, I am also convinced that Rev. King's sins were quite

Another Trafalgar Square

HARRISBURG — Columnist's Notebook:
"TRAFALGAR SQUARE" (Pa.) — In London, Trafalgar Square is noted, among other things, as a gathering point for protesters, demonstrators, soap box orators, or just anyone who wishes to espouse a cause — regardless of whether good, bad or indifferent.

Within the short space of recent years the steps of Pennsylvania's Capitol Hill topped by the Main Capitol Building seem to have become almost another Trafalgar Square, this one for Pennsylvanians desiring to espouse a cause!

It has been the scene of unionists' gatherings, teacher protest gatherings, anti-tobacco tax protesters, to name a few, and this week the assembly point for mourners of the late Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., during memorial services Tuesday.

It was with a touch of irony perhaps that those who gathered on the Capitol steps at high noon on Tuesday staged one of the most orderly and dignified gatherings of any recent note as they honored the memory of the famous Negro leader.

FOOTNOTE TO PITTSBURGH — When Governor Shafer last week ordered Pennsylvania National Guardsmen into riot-torn Pittsburgh, was Washington notified, and if so, when? The answer is perhaps interesting.

It was 12:10 p. m. Sunday when the Governor was notified of Pittsburgh's assistance request via radio-phone in his automobile in Philadelphia where he had just left a memorial service for Dr. King. By 2 p. m., less than two hours (with his State Police driver) he was in his office in Harrisburg.

One of the first things he did was pick up the telephone and call President Johnson — to simply post the chief executive on what was going on in Pennsylvania and what he was doing (not to ask for federal troops).

The President: at the time however was in a helicopter looking over the riot mess in his own Washington back yard, whereupon Mr. Shafer discussed the situation in Pennsylvania with U. S. Attorney General Ramsey Clark — who immediately relayed to the President in the chopper the situation in Pennsylvania. Liaison between Harrisburg and Washington was not lacking that day!

FIGHTING THE ITCH! — The State Department of Highways is determined to take care of its own, in one form or another, in this case in fighting the itch among some of its employees.

Bids were taken recently by the Department of Property and Supplies for the Department of Highways for 4000 oral doses of poison ivy immunization — at a cost of $10,250.

Who gets the itch protection? Basically it's for the employees of the department who work in the field and along Pennsylvania's highways. Is it worth it? Depends on how you look at it. If a worker has to take time off to scratch, that's time and work lost and money in pay down the drain. In the olden days when such workers were paid on an hourly per diem basis, the story was a bit different; such time off then was on their own!

FOR EASTER SUNDAY — The famed Bach Festival of Bethlehem, Pa., and its all-pervasive impact on the lives of its townspeople, will be the subject of a special Easter Bell Telephone Hour broadcast on Sunday, April 14, on NBC-TV.

"Going to Bethlehem" will be seen in color on Easter Sunday evening in a pre-emptive time (8:30-7:30 p. m.) April 14. Other musical highlights include a concert of sacred music by the Central Moravian Church Choir, featuring opera stars Judith Baskin and Cesare Siepi.

For 68 years, the Bach Festival has ranked as one of the world's great music festivals. Last spring, Telephone Hour producers traveled to Bethlehem to create a film portrait of this extraordinary musical occasion.

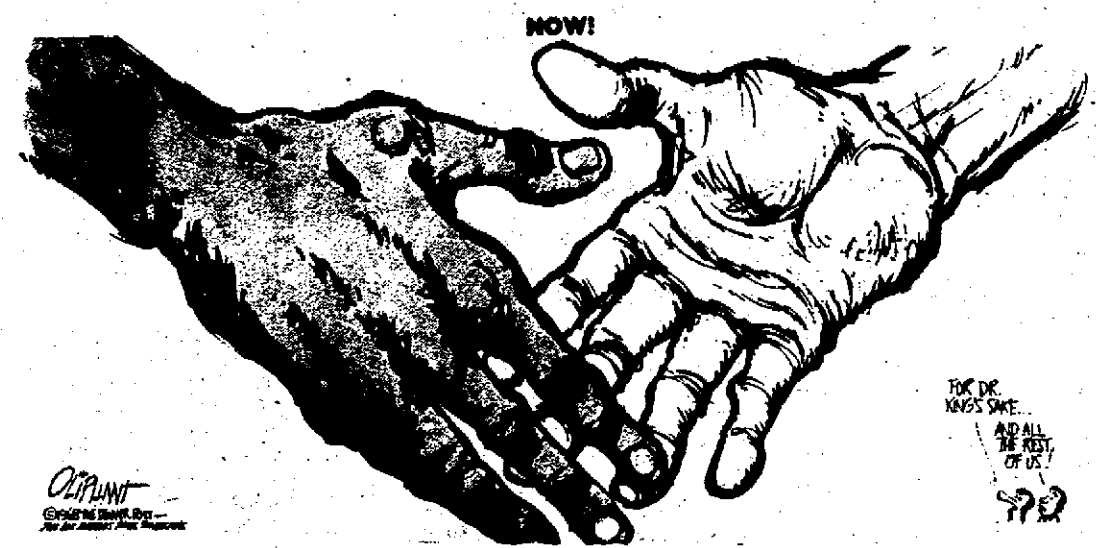

The original Bach Choir was first started with the Moravian Church Choir as its nucleus. Innocent when compared to those of many of the people who reviled him for trying to help his people.

Our civilization has come a long way technologically since that first Easter morning, but progress in "brotherly love" has been agonizingly slow. The sixty four thousand dollar question is whether the goal can be obtained, even if mankind is given another thousand years for more education.

Yours sincerely,
Paul L. Ritz

D.C. and Baltimore Suffer

WASHINGTON—Some lessons regarding police training can be drawn from the rioting following the assassination of Martin Luther King. Atlanta, Ga., under liberal but tough Police Chief Herbert Jenkins, had no riots. Twenty years ago Jenkins began integrating the Atlanta police, and has Negro cops patrolling Negro sections of his city. But if looking or rioting starts, they are under strict orders to stand in front of any broken window with a shotgun and shoot looters.

Another city which went unscathed was Philadelphia, under Police Chief Frank Rizzo, one of the toughest cops in the USA. Philadelphia police are well integrated and have been for some time.

On the other hand, Washington, D.C., where the police were under instructions not to fire at looters, suffered blocks of destruction, as did Baltimore, created. It was impossible for the police to arrest more than the ringleaders.

Washington and Baltimore were both handicapped by two factors: (1) lack of early police integration; and (2) reported instructions of black power leaders to make these cities, along with Chicago, the chief targets in the nation.

In the nation's capital, former Police Chief Robert Murray had a strict policy of hiring no Negroes. His successors have changed that policy, and Commissioner Patrick Murphy has been hiring and promoting well qualified Negroes as rapidly as possible.

In Baltimore, Donald Pomerleau, considered one of the best qualified police commissioners in the country, has also been hiring Negro police at an accelerated rate, but qualified men are not easy to get in a short time. Pomerleau has been trying to secure Negroes with high school educations, but not many are available. About 20 per cent of the Baltimore police force is integrated; about 12 per cent of the entire force comprises high school graduates.

Both cities, however, suffered from the black power advocates of violence. It's now learned that the original schedule for burning the capital was June 18-19. It was also planned that, after federal troops had moved into Washington, black terrorists would move on to Baltimore before troops could get there.

The target date was stepped up from June to April after King's assassination. It's significant that Baltimore was quite peaceful during the first two days of rioting in Washington. Then it flared even more viciously.

Also significant is the fact that some of the most determined looters in Washington were government employees, D.C. judges who sat all night processing the 4,000 arrested looters were flabbergasted at the fact that a predominant number worked for the government.

Holes In The Wall

"There," I said to my wife. "How does the t.v. set look recessed in the wall?" "Like a million dollars," she said, and burst into tears. Women can't bear to admit it when they are wrong. She ran to our room sobbing.

In our family, I am the tough trader. Kelly is the soft touch. She hasn't the brass to examine the rare Japanese object d'art where it says "underneath" "Made in Jersey City." I am the one who has to watch the butcher weigh his thumb with the half pound of imported salami; or to rationalize the sale which declares "One pound of coffee 45 cents" and, underneath, in light-face again, "with every $50 order when a full moon falls on Sunday."

Take that recessed television set. It had color, most of the time. Sometimes it depicted nothing but an Alaskan blizzard hours on end. I bought that set. Four hundred and fifty skins from a dear, dedicated buddy. We had the set, but it was too big. One day a man stood at the side door and said he was looking for work. Well, he came to a good place because I have never seen more of it waiting to be done than in our place. I asked if he knew anything about television. It turned out nothing much—he only wrote the book. He was like a t.v. Ph.D. cum laude.

I invited him in. He was of French descent and his name was Alphonse Dummet, which is pronounced dum-aye, but sounds better Anglicized as dummy. I asked Dummy to split a cup of coffee and a piece of toast with me, but he said he couldn't eat anything because he had a wife and three little kids on the other side of town and they were starving. The toast would stick in his throat. Okay. I showed him the big box. "Can you put that square object inside this wall?" I said. "What's in that wall?" he said, intelligently. "It leads to the center hall," I told him. "Ah," he said. Dummy examined the set, the wall, got inside the center closet, caught his neck on a wire hanger, came out and said it could be done.

"How much?" I said, narrowing my eyes because I wanted him to know that I am no sucker. He studied the lids and said: "I'll work for anything, mister. My poor little kids. . . . Let's leave your little ones out of this, shall we?" I said, opening the eyes and closing the trap.

He would work for $2 an hour. Fair enough. Kelly didn't like it; she said he looked like a weeping crook who would cheat his mother at bingo. I said "Pie!" and ordered her to stick to soiled dishes and such like. "If Mr. Dummy has any children," she said, "they are about as legitimate as he is." A canard, to be sure.

After that, I became acquainted with Dummy's face. His face was framed in a hole in my wall. When the hole had been squared off, he looked like a good color picture, sweating. Some days he was there. Some days not. Week after week, I watched him appear and disappear. Some mornings, I missed him and his chisel. He looked like something coming out of a San Quentin sewer.

The first check we gave Dummy was for a hundred. The kids needed milk. After that, the tapping became regular. "How many ways do I love thee?" he would murmur. "Let me count the hours. . . ." And he did. One day he heard me say that I needed an air conditioner for a small room. Dummy came out of the hole in the wall to say that it just so happened that he had one. Why pay $225? Take mine—practically brand new—for $150.

I did. We paid in cash. I never saw Dummy again. After three months, we had a big box

What the Negro world will be waiting to see is whether these looters lose their government jobs. If they don't, it will be a signal for more looting in the future.

A great majority of Negroes in Washington are bitter over the looting. The looters constituted a very small percentage of the Negro population. Washington was considered a model city until last week's riots broke out. Therefore the Negro population will watch with great interest to what happens to the government employees who flouted the government which employed them.

The people of Los Angeles don't know it yet, but they will probably gag on a smog a little longer because the Justice Department declines to take drastic action.

Inside the Justice Department, Assistant Attorney General Donald Turner has given preliminary orders to his staff to drop a criminal antitrust case against the big automobile companies on a charge of conspiring to suppress exhaust patents to clean up auto smog.

For 18 months the Justice Department has conducted a grand jury probe of this alleged conspiracy, and Samuel Flafow, in charge of the investigation, has asked Assistant Attorney General Turner to instruct him to bring criminal indictments.

However, Turner has chickened. He's about to drop any criminal action, and start new civil action instead. This will mean that 18 months of the taxpayers' money for conducting the investigation goes down the drain; also that more time elapses while the civil case is prepared. Turner, incidentally, is the pal of Lloyd Cutler, astute and able attorney for the automobile industry.

Note: Sen. Philip Hart, D-Mich., recently told the antitrust section of the American Bar Association: "Antitrust today is sick and nobody seems greatly concerned." Attorney General Ramsey Clark says that he is concerned, but apparently he's too busy with race riots to watch his own antitrust division. Meanwhile the Federal Communications Commission reports that mergers in manufacturing and mining industries rose by 50 per cent last year, the "sharpest increase in modern industrial history."

The Republican Congressional Committee struggled frantically to kill its Daily News Digest of April 5, the day after Martin Luther King was assassinated. It contained two critical items about King and his march on Washington by Rep. Robert Michel, Ill., and Rep. William Brock, Tenn. Brock maintained that King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference should not have tax-exempt status. All copies of the News Digest that could be collected were killed. . . Rep. Lawrence G. Williams, Pa., also protested in the Republican Congressional Newsletter against the Interior Department's plan to permit King's Poor People's March to use national park areas in Washington.

in addition to a hole in the wall. The air conditioner had a chacha beat. When I shut it off, it sounded like the last of an ice cream soda through a straw.

Two days later a doctor was at my door. He said he was sorry to intrude, but he was sure I had stolen his air conditioner. He had the serial number on a sheet of paper, in addition to a bill of sale. He wanted to charge me for taking it out of my window. This gave us two big holes.

My wife called a qualified television man and he crouched through the center closet and got in the hole in the wall. He was there a moment and he bustled out laughing. He came out with the big box. The television box was still intact, but there was nothing inside it. My friend Dummy had stolen the parts, one by one, and sold them. He had drawn $380 in pay. The new t.v. man wanted $400 for a new set, with the empty box as a trade-in.

I took it. "How does the new t.v. set look?" I said to my wife. "Like a million dollars," she said and burst into tears. They hate to admit when they're wrong. . .

In Harlem in recent months, doorbell-ringing home freezer salesmen have been offering housewives six months' worth of "free" food if they buy freezers at prices up to $1,300.

The actual value of these freezers, plus the "free" food, may be only a fraction of $1,300. However, many families are signing up for the deal—and in many cases those who cannot keep up with the steep payments are having their wages garnished.

Also in Harlem, as in big city ghettos from coast to coast, auto dealers are a d v e r t i s i n g used cars for sale under such terms as "no credit required, no down payment."

Yet, often the customer is taken "next door" by the dealer for a personal loan, amounting to a down payment, on a grossly overpriced vehicle. The unwitting buyer is locked into a long, costly series of payments and frequently ends up having his wages garnished.

Again, in Harlem, unscrupulous furniture stores typically advertise 60-piece sets of furniture which turn out to include only 40 pieces, even counting each sofa pillow as a separate piece. In some instances, customers entering these stores must make a deposit. They are then intimidated by high pressure salesmen into buying shoddy, overpriced merchandise, out of fear they won't get their "deposit" back.

These are just a few of a long list of consumer rackets, misrepresentations and high pressure sales tactics to which millions of U.S. slum dwellers have long been and still are being subjected. They have become a multi-million dollar drain on the pocketbooks of our poorest citizens. There is no doubt that the gyps and misrepresentations were a powerful factor behind the wave of looting and arson after the assassination of the Rev. Martin Luther King.

But finally, the responsible business community is recognizing it must take steps to prevent such unscrupulous practices in the ghettos.

Later this month, the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan New York will open a new Bureau in the center of Harlem, the first Better Business Bureau in any big U.S. city ghetto. The Bureau is being financed, initially with $97,000 a year, by some of the largest corporations in the nation, including IBM, General Motors, Macy's, Corn Products, and also publishers, banks, oil companies, supermarket chains and utilities.

The new Harlem Better Business Bureau will investigate hundreds of small and large businesses to find out whether their advertising or sales tactics are fraudulent or deceptive; conduct educational campaigns throughout the district to help residents avoid gyps and get the most for their spending dollars; crack down on gyps not only by persuasion but also by "every available means within the Bureau's command." The Bureau also will review, daily, every type of advertising claim aimed at Harlem residents, including newspaper ads, radio and TV ads, window and counter signs, junk mail, and solicitations made by telephone or doorbell.

New Better Business Bureaus also are being planned for explosive slum districts in other U.S. cities as well. The victimization of America's slum dwellers by the racketeering fringe should never have reached today's proportions. Responsible businessmen should long ago have given efforts to curb its highest priority.

This obvious step is shamefully late. But it is being taken at last. The impact could be enormous — if the preliminary projects are multiplied across the nation and if businessmen really understand the need and are determined to wipe out Ghetto gyps.

Dragons Outfly Eagles In 110-40 Track Victory

By DAVE PIRILLO
The vast array of talent that the Warren track and field team displayed yesterday afternoon in Youngsville was too much for the Eagles to consume, as a 110-40 final score pointed out.

Coast Clashes

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Rookie Jerry Koosman pitched a four-hitter for his first major league victory Thursday night as the New York Mets defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-0.

The Mets scored their first three runs off right-hander Bill Singer, two of them on a single by Art Shamsky and one on a single by Ron Swoboda.

Warren swept the field with a total of fourteen firsts, ten seconds and eight third places. In these totals the thing that pleases coach Randas best is the fact the boys bettered their times and distances in nine of the wins in comparison to Tuesday's match at Bradford.

Dave Cobb, as he has done before, captured the 880-yd. dash, the mile and anchored down the mile relay for the Blue and White. Cobb shaved off a good four seconds on his last 880 in stopping the clock at 2:06.5, in the mile he bettered his time of Tuesday by a healthy seven seconds, as he coasted over the finish line with a 4:40. After all this he still ran a :54.8 in the mile relay.

Youngsville tried to answer back with Gary Wood in the 100-yd. dash and the 220. The Eagle speedster was clocked at a 10.7 in the century dash and :24.15 in the 220. Wood also took a second place in the quarter-mile, as he finished a fraction of a second behind Warren's Harry Spackman.

Another bright spot for the Eagles was their two-mile relay team. Kris Johnson, Jack Maze, Bob Long and Dave See grabbed an early lead from their counterparts and breezed along at a 8:46 clip. Bob Long's 11 foot jump with the pole sized up the first places for the Eagles' afternoon work.

Chris Lytle was a repeat performer in the winner's circle of the 180-yard low hurdles, as he turned in a 22.6. Eddie O'Neil also won his second javelin toss in as many outings. O'Neil hurled the spear over 169 feet.

Warren's relay teams added their ten points to the cause in downing the Eagles in the half-mile and mile. Rex Slocum, Mike Cauley, Dan Swanson and Chris Lytle compose the undefeated half-milers, while Dan O'Neil, Ed O'Neil, Mike Hackett and Dave Cobb are the nucleus of the mile team.

The Dragons' field team didn't take a back seat to the Eagles either. The muscle-men of the team gave coach Joel Beason a hard day's work in seizing six of the seven first place tallies and a total of 54 points overall.

Darrell Pusateri carried the brunt of the load on the field by tossing the shot put 43 feet for a win and spinning the discus over 115 feet for a second place there. Dan Reynolds continues to knock down points in the broad and triple jumps. Reynolds took a second place in both events.

The Dragons got a chance to take their unblemished record home on Tuesday as they play host to the powerful Franklin Knights, which will prove to be one of their best matches of the year. Activities will get underway at 4 p.m. on the hill.

The Eagles will try to bring their record over the .500 mark when the Ridgway Elfers pay a visit this coming Tuesday at 4 o'clock.

PAIR OF TOP SPRINTERS
Shown here almost neck and neck, Harry Spackman of Warren and Gary Wood of Youngsville, fought it out at yesterday's meet in the 100, 220, and 440 yard dashes. Wood took the two short dashes by a nose, leaving Spackman second place man. However the Dragon regained his strength and later pounded out a 52.7 to edge past Wood in the 440. (Photo by Mahan)

Stars Have Sports Interest

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP) — An owner of the new Phoenix National Basketball Association franchise says actor Tony Curtis and singer Andy Williams have substantial interests in the venture.

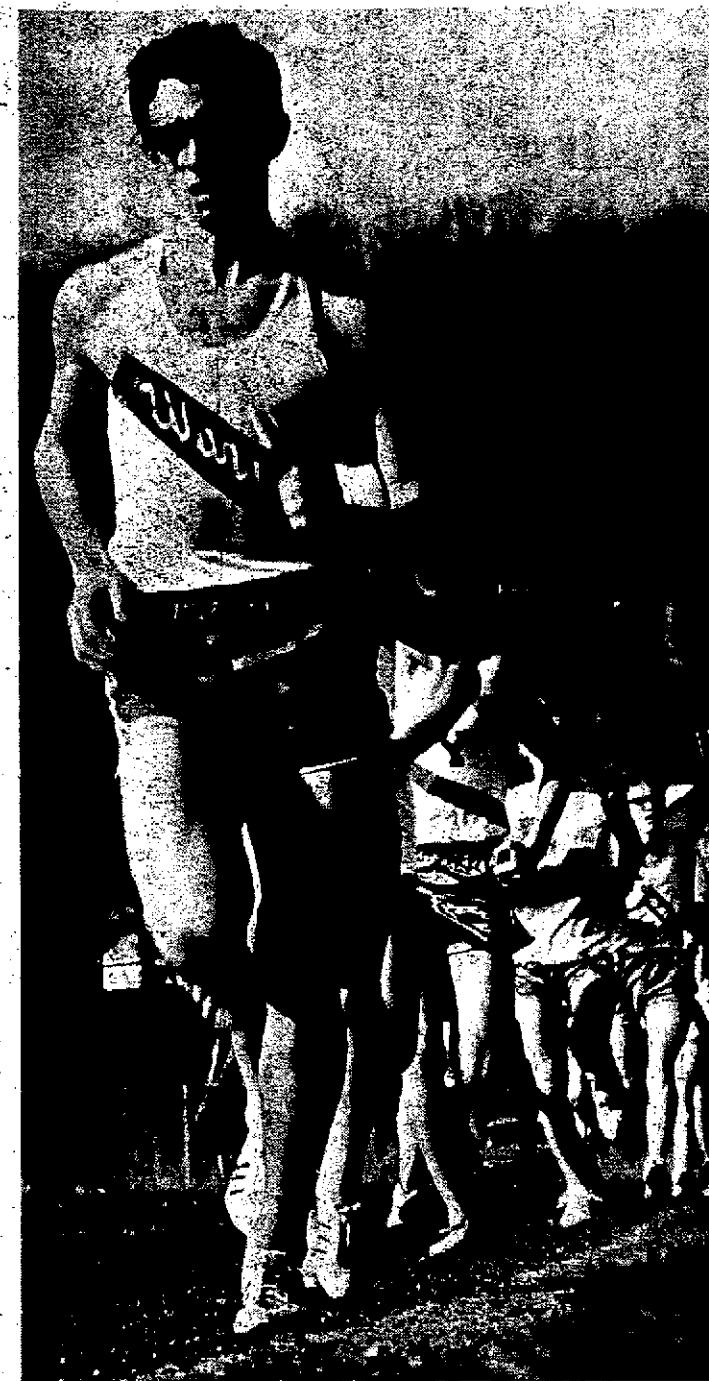

Donald Pitt, a Tucson, Ariz., attorney, said Williams was a major shareholder.

"He will be actively involved and will lend the same kind of support to Phoenix that he contributed in making the San Diego Golf Tournament the big success it was this year," Pitt said.

Pitt did not list any other investors in the franchise but said, "It is a small group, and we intend to have some Phoenix participation also."

Breaks Ankle

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Philadelphia Flyers announced Thursday that their second leading scorer, Garry Downhoffer, has a broken right ankle and will miss the rest of the National Hockey League's Stanley Cup playoffs.

Wills Helps Pirates In 15th-Inning Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Maury Wills' two-run single in the 15th inning gave Pittsburgh a 3-1 victory over San Francisco Thursday after pitcher Mike McCormick and Bob Veale had duelled for 12 innings.

Bill Mazeroski was the first Pirate runner in the 15th and was safe on Nate Oliver's error. Manny Mota's punt moved him to second and Frank Linzy, who relieved McCormick in the 14th gave Matty Alou an intentional pass.

Bill Henry relieved and hit Manny Jimenez with a pitch, loading the bases. Wills singled through the left side, driving in Mazeroski and Alou.

McCormick, the National League's Cy Young Award winner in 1967 with a 22-10 record, didn't allow the first Pittsburgh hit until Mota beat out a single with two out in the fifth.

Both he and Veale gave up six hits. Veale was lifted for a pinch-hitter in the 13th.

Elroy Face kept the Giants from scoring in the 13th and 14th innings and Bob Moose hurled the final frame.

Ron Hunt's double in the fifth and Jim Davenport's single gave the Giants a 1-0 lead. Davenport's single in the third inning was the veteran infielder's 1,000th major league hit.

The Pirates tied the score in the seventh when first baseman Donn Clendenon hit a 365-foot home run over the left-field screen.

Cards Wallop Atlanta 10-3

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Orlando Cepeda drove in four runs with a homer, triple and single as St. Louis walloped Atlanta 10-3.

Nelson Briles limited the Braves to eight hits and had Atlanta shut out until the eighth inning when Deron Johnson poked a three-run homer.

Briles, who won nine straight games at the end of last season and then tacked on a World Series triumph against Boston, was staked to a 7-0 lead before Johnson connected.

Cepeda's triple—his first three-bagger in four years—keyed a three-run Cardinal rally in the third inning. Then the big first baseman walloped his first homer of the year in the sixth following Curt Flood's single.

In the eighth, Flood tripled and rode home on Cepeda's single, triggering another three-run rally.

Tim McCarver had four hits and Cepeda, Flood and Mike Shannon three each as the Cardinals battered three Atlanta pitchers for 18 hits.

Astros Beat Old Nemesis 7 to 3

HOUSTON (AP) — Norm Miller and Rusty Staub, each drove in two runs and the Houston Astros beat Philadelphia and their old nemesis Larry Jackson 7-3 Thursday night.

Jackson, who has beaten the Astros 17 times, only lasted three innings as Houston mounted a 14-hit attack that netted six runs in the first four innings.

Miller's runs batted in came on a single in the first and a double in the third. Staub doubled in runs in the fourth and seventh.

Tony Gonzalez drove in two of the Philadelphia runs off winning pitcher Don Wilson, who went the distance and allowed seven hits.

Williams Hits 2 HRs for 200

CINCINNATI (AP) — Billy Williams boosted his career home run total of 200 with two in a five-homer barrage by the Chicago Cubs for a 10-3 romp over Cincinnati.

Ferguson Jenkins breezed to an easy victory and even hit a home run in the six-run third inning attack that knocked out loser Mel Queen.

Ron Santo and Adolfo Phillips also hit home runs for the Cubs among their 13 hits. Williams drove in four runs and Phillips three.

Santo's blast gave the Cubs their first run in the second. Jenkins' homer, an error by Tony Perez, a single by Don Kessinger and Williams' three-run homer were the big blows in the Cubs' third when Ernie

Casper Takes 1-Stroke Lead In Masters

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Placid Bill Casper whipped a pair of old bugaboos—the green coat jitters and fickle greens—and marched to a one-stroke lead Thursday in the opening round of the 32nd Masters Golf Tournament.

While most of the others in the select 74-man field wrestled with nerves and tricky breaks, the 36-year-old Mormon from Peacock Gap, Calif., coolly ran in six birdie putts—one from 55 feet—for a four-under-par 68.

Favorite Jack Nicklaus, admitting he was overly anxious and jittery, never hit a hole in 69 which placed him in a bracket with four others that looked like a United Nations roll call.

Also at 69 were Tony Jacklin, the brash young pro from England who two weeks ago became the first from his country to win a PGA tournament; Robert de Vicenzo, the balding Argentine who holds the British Open crown; skinny Bruce Devlin of Australia, who played so poorly last year he thought he might have to return to his plumbing trade; and Tommy Aaron, journeyman U.S. pro who never has won a tour tournament.

Defending champion Gary Brewer Jr., and the gallery's choice, Arnold Palmer, both had putting difficulties and settled for par 72s that left them four shots off the blistering first round pace.

"If I had putted reasonably well, I would have been in much closer contention," said Palmer, his brow wrinkled with concern. He has won four Masters but hasn't had a major victory since 1964, his last Masters triumph.

The pug-nosed Brewer refused to be discouraged by his round, which was one stroke better than his opening effort a year ago.

"I've got to get rid of those bogeys," Brewer said, "but I think I can still win it."

Three U.S. pros were tied at 70—Bob Goaly, Kermit Zarley and Jerry Pittman—and seven other players were under Augusta National's par of 71.

They were Don January, the reigning PGA champion; Ray Floyd, Bert Yancey, Lee Trevino, amateur Vinnie Giles and the six times Japanese Open champion, Hideyoshi Sugimoto of Tokyo.

They were Don January, the reigning PGA champion; Ray Floyd, Bert Yancey; Lee Trevino; amateur Vinnie Giles; six times Japanese Open champion Hideyoshi Sugimoto of Tokyo, and Herman Kelsier, darkhorse winner of this title in 1946.

January scored an eagle on the 475-yard 13th by sinking a six-iron shot from 70 yards off the green. Giles, seeking to become the first amateur ever to take the Masters, had an outgoing three-under 33.

Par for the Augusta National course, a 6,980-yard layout with broad fairways and huge rolling greens, is 36-36—72. Overnight rains left damp spots in some places and made the greens deceptively slow. A tricky wind put a challenge on club selection.

FBI Keeps Steadfast Silence About Assassination of King

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The FBI maintained a steadfast silence Thursday in the face of queries, rumors and reports about the gun and the bullet which killed Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. here a week ago.

Refused comment on whether: — Ballistics test matched the bullet with a rifle found near the scene. — Firearms dealers in Birmingham, Ala., had been questioned about sales of Remington rifles.

Both reports have been published, but the FBI says they did not originate with its agents.

Shortly after King's assassination one week ago, police found a 30-06 rifle with a telescopic sight one block away.

Guy Canipe, owner of an amusement company, told newsmen he saw a man drop a package in front of his store and drive away in a white automobile. He said he did not see the man's face. "I looked down and saw the barrel of a gun sticking out of a package," he said.

The New York Post reported Thursday that the fatal bullet was so badly deformed on im-pect that the FBI was having difficulty determining if it was fired from the rifle Canipe saw discarded.

An unidentified Memphis ballistics technician was quoted here as saying the bullet was badly damaged when it struck bones in Dr. King's neck. Another published report said the bullet may have been soft-nosed.

Meanwhile, negotiators continued efforts to settle the nine-week-old garbage strike, which brought King to Memphis, Ala., though neither side issued statements, the Memphis Press-Scimitar said it learned that much of the discussion revolved around wages.

There has been no indication how the issues of union recognition and dues checkoff would be settled.

Frank Holloman, Memphis police director, said the morning after King's death that he was "optimistic" about the investigation, refused to comment Thursday.

"When I can make any comment without prejudicing the investigation, I will do so," he said.

King was struck by one bullet while standing on the balcony of his motel. Police said the fatal bullet was fired from a bathroom window in a rooming house—within view of the motel balcony 205 feet away.

'No Grazing' Period Continues Through Sept. 1

Gerald Bensink, office manager, Warren County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, reminds farmers that the "no grazing" period for diverted acres under the 1968 feed grain program started April 1. It continues for the following five months, until Sept. 1.

Charles Camp, chairman, ASCA county committee, explains that farmers diverting acreage under the program have agreed not to graze diverted acres during the specific five-month period of the growing season, and not to harvest a crop from diverted acres at any time during the year.

Farmers participating in conservation reserve and cropland adjustment programs have agreed not to graze land diverted under these programs or harvest any crop from such land during the life of the agreements.

There are 153 Warren County farms signed up to participate in the 1968 commodity diversion programs for corn and grain sorghum.

You gave your child a bike...

NOW, give him this valuable gift (and at no extra cost)

Give your child the gift of life. A bicycle can be either a fun thing . . . or a vehicle of tragedy. Tear this out. Read it over with him. Talk it over with him. His life is worth a few minutes of your time.

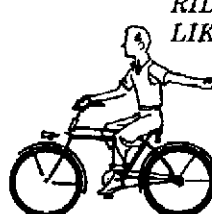

FREE For your copy of the new Bike Brochure, written especially for young bike riders, write to: Department of Information, Bureau of Traffic Safety, Room 300, Finance Building, Harrisburg, Pa.

Look before you leap. Remember, vehicles in the street have the right of way. Don't charge out of driveways or lanes until you are sure no cars are coming.

Observe all traffic signs. Stop where cars do. Go only on the green light . . . and only in the direction arrows point on One-Way streets.

Use directional signals. Point with hand and arm in the direction you will turn before you turn.

Inspect for safety. Check your bike regularly for brakes, safe tires, tight seat and handlebars, operating headlight and bell or horn.

And when you're driving your car, watch out for every child on every bike—as if they were your very own.

Left-Wing Student Leader Shot in Berlin Thursday

BERLIN (AP) — Rudi Dutschke, the firebrand symbol of West German leftist student unrest, was shot and critically wounded Thursday on the Kurferstendamm, West Berlin's main street.

Police wounded and captured a man identified as his assailant after trading more than 30 shots with him in an hour-long gun duel. Both Dutschke, 28, and the man said to be his assailant were reported in critical condition.

Police said the man, about 25 years old, carried no identification and they have so far not been able to establish who he is.

The shooting immediately sent shock waves through West Berlin's and West Germany's student organizations, many of whose members earlier this week took part in memorial services for the slain American civil rights leader, Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

About 3,000 students of West Berlin's Technical University started a march to the Axel Springer publishing concern, adjoining the wall that divides West Berlin from the Communist sector of the city.

Springer, publisher of many of West Germany's and West Berlin's major newspapers, has long been a target of Dutschke's Socialist Student Federation — SDS.

About 350 young student demonstrators marched in Frankfurt carrying banners. One said "Springer's agitation had success. Attempted assassination of Dutschke."

Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger and West Berlin Mayor Klaus Schütz sent telegrams to Dutschke's American wife, Gretchen, who was at her husband's side in a West Berlin hospital. She was identified in German newspapers as the daughter of a Chicago druggist.

Kurt Neubauer, West Berlin's Senator of the Interior, told a news conference doctors gave Dutschke "a chance of surviving."

He said the student leader was shot three times as he was mounting his bicycle in front of the SDS office. One bullet lodged in the brain, the others hit him in the right cheek and in the right side of his chest, Neubauer said.

Sugar Grove Am. Legion Post 49 Years Old

Sugar Grove's American Legion Post 758 observed the 49th anniversary of the legion with a party at the post April 6.

Following a Swiss steak dinner, guests were served from a large anniversary cake.

Post Commander Merle Trumbull, acting as toastmaster, introduced the following guests: Daniel A. Drew, national executive committee member of the American Legion for Pennsylvania; Clarence Miller, 28th district commander, of Oil City; Jack Macintosh, 28th district adjutant; Paul Ballard, county vice commander; and Allen Raleigh, Warren and Forest counties adjutant. World War I veterans present were Frank Gorman, Kenneth Frank, Edgar Hanson, Hobart Sanders and Norman McCauley.

Among the 50 guests were William Allen, state assemblyman and Mrs. Allen.

Introducing Drew, Miller read a letter expressing the 28th district's support for Drew's candidacy for re-election. Drew then spoke at length on law and order, the flag, the youth of the country and communism.

World War I songs were sung, with Mrs. Robert Adams of Garland playing the piano. Dancing followed, with music furnished by the Old Timers of Warren.

Civil Disorders Cost Pa. Insurance Firms $2 Million

NEW YORK (AP)—Civil disorders since the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. may cost insurance companies $45 million or more.

The American Insurance Association and the General Adjustment Bureau said the estimate was "up-to-date as of Wednesday" and was "conservatively estimated." They said an earlier estimate of $30 million covered the period from King's death through Sunday night.

The payout figures were "revised as new incidents took place and as a more exact evaluation of earlier incidents became possible," the bureau said.

T.L. Jones, president of the association, said "the current and projected damages make it all the more imperative for congress to pass, at the first opportunity, pending legislation providing for government riot reinsurance."

Loss estimates by state include $2 million in Pennsylvania.

Building Still There

A statement in Tuesday's TMO that the new Kinzua Point tourist information building near Casey Bridge is "gradually sinking" was incorrect, Ralph Freeman, Allegheny National Forest supervisor, said Thursday. Freeman noted that a part of the project area some distance from the building has sunk slightly, but that the building itself has not moved at all.

McCarthy Seeks Way to Help Nation's Poor

BOSTON (AP) — Democratic presidential candidate Eugene J. McCarthy Thursday night proposed a guaranteed minimum income and a federally subsidized health insurance program to raise the standard of living of the nation's poor.

The Minnesota senator's suggestions were in the text of a speech prepared for an audience at Boston University.

McCarthy flew to Boston from Lincoln, Neb., where he told a questioner that the present dispute with North Vietnam over the site for proposed peace talks "is in my judgment not particularly defensible."

"The President said several months ago he would meet any place at any time. Then his administration raised objections to meeting in Cambodia—which is someplace," McCarthy said.

McCarthy, in Boston, endorsed the report of the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, specifically the section recommending that some six million low and middle income housing units be built in the next five years.

McCarthy suggested that a system such as auto liability insurance be devised to meet health needs. He said the building program could be accomplished like the interstate highway program, with federal financing so private industry "can plan for the long effort."

"America's Negroes are 'mired in a cycle of poverty,'" he said, "presented through television with a constant reminder of the benefits of our society now enjoyed by the overwhelming majority of white citizens."

"In many respects, the legislative gains of three and four years ago heightened this frustration," he added.

Pope Paul Washes Feet Of 12 Student Priests

ROME (AP) Pope Paul washed the feet of 12 student priests—most of them nonwhites—at a Holy Thursday Mass in a gesture symbolizing the church in the service of the poor, the war-torn and the oppressed.

The 70-year-old Pope knelt for the symbolic cleansing in a reenactment of Christ, who washed the feet of the 12 apostles on the eve of his death.

For the foot-washing ceremony in St. John Lateran Basilica the Pope chose a North Vietnamese—Peter Thiet, 29, of Ngia Lo, near Hanoi—and other student priests from Nigeria, Rwanda, Sudan, Egypt, Colombia, South Korea, Hong Kong, India, Thailand, Tonga and Australia.

They are all students at the Papal College for the Propagation of the Faith in Rome.

The selection of the students from the underdeveloped world pointed up the Pope's often-stated emphasis on the church mission of serving those in need.

The Pope wore white vestments for the Mass commemorating the institution of the Eucharist by Christ at the Last Supper.

Four cardinals—three Italians and American Francis Brennan—aided Pope Paul during the Mass in the white marble-lined baroque basilica. More than 8,000 Romans and foreign tourists filled the church.

Pope Paul took off the richly ornate vestments and wore a simple white cloth garment reaching to his ankles for the foot-washing ceremony. The pontiff leaned over and poured drops of water from a cruet over the right foot of each young man, dabbed it dry with a white linen cloth and then kissed it.

The Pope donned again the Mass vestments of gold-embroidered white silk to reflect Catholicism's spiritual joy over the Eucharistic communion instituted by Christ at the Last Supper.

The pontiff centered his 10-minute homily on Christian love symbolized by the Eucharist, a mystery "impossible to understand if one does not think of love."

"All Christianity is here in this . . . A new circulation of love must turn us from enemies into friends, from aliens into brothers . . . Love is still shrunken and locked inside borders of customs, interests, and selfishness which must, we think, be expanded . . . Therefore, love is the badge of Christian genuinity."

On Friday, Pope Paul will lead a Way of the Cross procession at the Colosseum, carrying a cross in an expected crowd of thousands bearing torches.

Saturday night he will celebrate the "Easter Vigil" Mass with two Benedictine abbots at St. Paul's Basilica.

Easter Sunday he will say an outdoor Mass in St. Peter's Square and deliver his Easter speech and give his "Urbi et Orbi" blessing—to the city of Rome and the world.

Civil Disobedience Still Considered Breaking the Law

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Although persons taking part in civil disobedience may be worthy of society's compassion, they still are lawbreakers, the chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar Association said Thursday.

"No matter how you label it," chancellor Lewis H. Van Dusen Jr., told 1,000 Philadelphia community leaders at an annual bank luncheon in a mid-city hotel, "civil disobedience, social protest, moral duty or conscience obligation, it is still lawbreaking."

Violations of the law, even for reasons that are noble, Van Dusen contended, are not only "assaults on the rule of law, but subversions of the democratic process."

"To adopt the techniques of civil disobedience is to assume that representative government does not work."

"To resist the decision of our courts and the laws of our elected assemblies is to say that democracy has failed . . ."

"No man is above the law and no man has a right to break the law . . . the commitment to disobedience is the disengagement of democracy."

THE EASTER BUNNY HAS SOME TIPS for those planning to color hard cooked eggs. He says, that according to the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture, the proper way to hard cook eggs is to cover them completely with water and simmer for 25 minutes. . . . do not let the water boil! Cooking eggs at a low temperature helps avoid discoloration. However, the department also emphasized that should the harmless green discoloration appear between the white and the yolk of the hard cooked egg, don't give it a thought. . . . It's only a natural chemical reaction between the sulphur in the white and the iron in the yolk. One further tip, avoid overcooking and cool promptly. Now, Happy Easter to all active members of the Easter Bunny Assistants Association!

ALL REGISTERED NURSES throughout Pennsylvania are invited to attend a Legislative Institute to be held at Holiday West Motor Hotel in Harrisburg from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m. on Thursday, April 18th. The program scheduled, which is open to all nurses, will include a full discussion on the Nurse Practice Act and possible revisions, and a detailed review of current bills. Two of the speakers are the Honorable George W. Gekas, member of the House of Representatives and Nathan C. Hershey, assistant director of the Health Law Center, University of Pittsburgh.

NEWCOMERS CLUB is having a luncheon just for the fun of it on Wednesday, April 17th, at 1 o'clock, at the Edgewood Court Motel and Restaurant on Route 6, east of Youngsville. All reservations must be in by noon today. . . . Call Carol Davis, 723-5273. If any cancellations are necessary they must be made by noon April 16th. The luncheon is $2.05 per person (a baby sitting service will not be available).

THE PROVENCAL ROOM OF THE BLUE MANOR is the setting chosen for the fifth annual meeting of the League of Women Voters of the Warren area. It takes place next Tuesday, April 16th, at 5 p. m. At that time, members will adopt local program items and the 1968-69 budget; elect officers and new board members. The meeting will be followed by a social hour and dinner for those who wish to stay. Dinner reservations are to be made with Mrs. C. P. Spiridon, no later than Monday morning April 15th.

MINIATURES: Jackson Run Mothers Circle is meeting on Tuesday April 16th, at the home of Mrs. Hazel Olson and Mrs. Mabel Phillips, 519 Buchanan street, at 2 that afternoon.

The regular meeting of McClintock PTA is Monday evening, April 15th, at 8. Louis Salerno, chairman of the Science Department for the school district of Warren County, will be moderator for a panel discussion. Room visitation will be from 7:30 to 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served by mothers of First Grade pupils. Everyone is asked to attend.

Brass Choir Featured At Cook Forest Sunrise Service

An unusual attraction at the Cook Forest 18th annual Easter Sunday Service at Ridge camp-ground this year is the Brass Choir of ten Brookville Area High School students who will play the opening number on the program. They will perform under the direction of Dickson Tattersall. Choral music will be presented by the Brookville Area High School Concert Choir under the direction of Richard R. Reed, with Glen Fornell the soloist and Debra Renning, accompanist.

The organ prelude will begin at 6:30 a. m. with Nancy Davis of Clarion as the organist. Miss Davis is a senior at Clarion Area High School.

The message "Eternal Hope —Triumph Over Temporal Turmoil," is to be given by the Honorable Judge Glenn Mencer, president judge of McKean County, and a resident of Smethport.

Through the efforts of Sunrise committeeman L. D. Conrad, park superintendent Floyd Hestrick, manager Paul Rutan of Radio Station WWCH in Clarion, and the Bell Telephone System, the services will be broadcast live this year. WWCH is 1300 on the radio dial.

To get to the sunrise service grounds, turn off Route 36 at the Cook Forest State Park gateway. The area where worshippers will gather is generally identified as "The Circle."

Eagles Auxiliary Prepares For April District Meeting

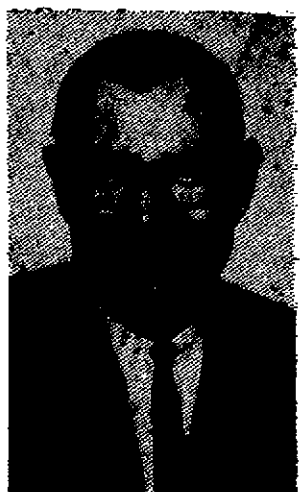

The regular meeting of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Ladies Auxiliary took place recently with the president, Ruby Cook, presiding. Preparations were discussed for the women's district meeting. The theme for the April 28 meeting will be "Spring Showers and Flowers." The time the meeting will be called to order is set for 2 o'clock; a spaghetti dinner will be served afterwards.

The auxiliary voted to assist in the painting of the club's hall.

The April birthday dinner is to be a family affair. The tureen style dinner will be held on Friday, April 19, in the social room of the club, and will be for the entire family. The main course is to be meat loaf. Every family is to bring a large tureen.

Nominations will be held at the next meeting. All members are urged to attend; a luncheon will be served after the meeting is concluded.

MRS. BIMBER

Sandra Ann Hixson Dennis Bimber Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hixson of 406½ Union street, announce the marriage of their daughter, Sandra Ann, to Dennis C. Bimber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bimber of Scandia. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father Norman A. Smith, assistant pastor at St. Joseph's Church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace gown and a silver mantilla. The maid of honor, her sister, Susan, wore a blue lace dress.

Best man was Greg Bimber, brother of the groom, and acting as altar boy was the bride's brother Michael Hixson.

The new Mrs. Bimber is a lab technician at Warren General Hospital, and the groom is attending the Pennsylvania State University. Both are graduates of Warren Area High School, class of 1966.

A reception for members of the families was held after the nuptial service.

Dr. and Mrs. J.W. Larson Honored On 25th Anniversary

Dr. and Mrs. John W. Larson, formerly of Warren now residing in Harrisburg, were honored on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary at a buffet luncheon. The affair was given by their children, Mr. and Mrs. John Larson Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Willis. It was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larson Jr. on Chapman Dam road, Clearmont.

Mrs. Larson, who chose a light blue dress with black accessories for the occasion, was remembered with a white rose corsage tipped in silver, and Dr. Larson with a white boutonniere. Dr. and Mrs. Larson were united in marriage on March 13, 1943, in Calvary

Baptist Church, with the Rev. S. R. Schieb and the Rev. Martin Hamlin officiating.

Dr. Larson, a former Warren pediatrician, is now with the Pennsylvania Department of Health, Division of Maternal and Child Health, and Chief of the School Health Section. He was recently honored with an appointment as Clinical Assistant Professor of Pediatrics at the Hahnemann Medical College of Philadelphia.

Decorations for the affair included a bouquet of white mums and various other floral arrangements. A buffet luncheon was served to seventy guests who attended from Erie, Meadville, Findlay Lake, Frewsburg and Warren.

Circle Members Are Entertained

Members of the Edna P. Coon Circle were entertained at the home of Mrs. Audrey Cable with fifteen members present. Mrs. Adia Logan led devotions and a brief business meeting was conducted by the chairman, Miss Ethel Kitterer.

Mrs. Thomas Chittester read a chapter "The Rock That Moved" from Peter Marshall's book "Mr. Jones Meets the Master." Dresser scarves were brought to the meeting; they will be sent to Edna P. Coon to be used in the children's home in Mechanicsburg. A birthday gift is to be sent from Mrs. Henry Kitterer to Chuckie Morning, one of the children at the home. The circle will also remember, with Easter gifts, shut-ins.

Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Dottie Chittester.

Needle And Hare Club Meeting

The Needle and Hare 4-H Club met on April 6, at the home of Isaac Borland, on Logan road, with sixteen members present.

At the organizational meeting officers for the 1968 season were elected as follows: President, Carol Uhlig; vice president, Denise Bearfield; secretary, Chris Blehs; news reporter, Becky Slocum; song leader, Tim Parker; game leader, George Blehs; refreshments, Ruthann Johnson and Vivian Borland.

At the close of the meeting, Kool-Aid and popcorn were served.

TEMPTING DRINK
A tall refreshing beverage is most welcome almost any time of the year. A quick and tasty idea is to put small scoops of lime and orange sherbert in each tall glass. Fill the glass half full with chilled canned orange-grapefruit juice and then add lemon lime carbonated beverage. This will be a great tasting and refreshing drink.

Visiting Nurses To Purchase New Car

The Warren Visiting Nursing Association met in the Municipal Building on Tuesday afternoon, April 9, with fourteen officers and directors present. Mrs. Robert Probst, president, conducted the meeting.

Business included the approval of the purchase of a new car for the use of the nurses; also committee reports of activities. Nurse Lindell in her report stated that the patient load in the county had increased by six. She also reported at some length the qualifications for nursing positions.

Miss Tams, a representative of the National League for Nurses, will visit the Warren Association on April 30 to evaluate present policies and procedures and make recommendations for improvements in some areas.

The Association accepted with regret the resignation of Mrs. Warner Lindell, nursing supervisor, to take effect on April 30.

QUICKIE SANDWICHES

Make these quickie sandwiches for lunch or an after-school snack. Toast 6 slices bread. Heat 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce with mushrooms; 1 package (5 ounces) cocktail wieners, sliced; ¼ cup sliced olives; and 2 tablespoons sliced green onions. Spoon over toast; cover with 6 slices Mozzarella or mild process cheese. Broil till cheese melts. Makes 6 servings.

Grange News

Diamond Grange held its meeting recently with Master Ralph Rapp presiding. A tureen supper preceded the meeting. During the business meeting, it was voted to sponsor a Hot Stove League again this year. Afterwards the Lecturer introduced the chairman of "Youth For The County," Hope Nelson, who presented the following program:

A stunt; a song "Sewing The Seeds" by everyone; a thought for the month by Peg Brittain; a pocketbook game for everyone; rotation game for everyone; a skit "Time To Rewind" with Jean Hollabaugh, Bob Hollabaugh, Denny Durnell, Hope Nelson; a quiz, and all formed a circle around the altar during a solo by Ida Grace.

The meeting was brought to a close in regular form followed by refreshments.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I would like to comment on Marvyn, the young man who won a trip to London in a sales contest. His girl wrote that she was disappointed when he returned and handed her his "gift" — a clump of dirt from London.

Your comment that the gift was "dirt cheap" — and something a person could pick up at the last minute, was not only inadequate but incorrect. Such a gift could wind up being mighty expensive — for all of us. Even a handful of English soil could bring into this country foot-and-mouth disease or golden nematode, which is a serious pest of potatoes.

Moreover, Marvyn broke the law. Untreated soil from any place outside North America is prohibited by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Marvyn should have declared the soil to the U. S. Customs authorities. Had he done so, the soil could have been treated to eliminate all plant pests and animal diseases.

Pre-School Child Study Group Hears Social Worker

The Pre-School Child Study Group at its meeting on Monday evening at Northwest Savings and Loan heard Miss Darlene Henselin, caseworker for the Family Service and Children's Aid Society, give an interesting talk on the organization's services. She is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin with a B.S. degree and a Master of Science degree in Social Work. She is a member of the National Association of Social Workers.

In her talk she stressed that the organization's main purpose is to give strength to families under stress, with its primary emphasis on family counseling. Other services include: Adoptions, help for unwed mothers, help for married couples who face difficulty in making their marriage work, to children with problems in adjusting to family, school and friends, and special services to the aging person.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Wilbur Swartz, president. She reported that 300 letters were sent out to past members inviting them to the 30-year reunion which will take place next month at the YWCA. Those working on the reunion committee were reminded of the special meeting on Monday night, April 29. This meeting is very important as all final plans for the reunion will be made and so every member of the club will have a part in the program.

Each year April is designated as guest night for those wishing to become members of the club. This year guests introduced during the evening were: Mrs. Lyle Cathcart, Mrs. Terry Rollin, Mrs. William Bevelino, Mrs. Edward Nelson, Mrs. Nell Robb and Mrs. James Strazella.

At the close of the meeting, eleven Easter baskets were made for the children whose names were presented to the club by the Warren County Board of Assistance. Mrs. LaVerne Hanson purchased the baskets and a variety of candy and Mrs. Wilbur Swartz made homemade Easter eggs to fill each basket. They will be delivered to the homes of these children by Mrs. Frank Stroker, Mrs. David Hendrickson, Mrs. James Eldridge and Mrs. Jerry O'Donnell.

Plans were made for the annual banquet. The date was set for Monday, June 3, at 7:30 p.m. and will take place at the Driftwood in Jamestown. Roast prime ribs of beef and lobster tails will be the dinner choice. All reservations must be made no later than May 10.

The next meeting will be held on May 10 at the YWCA at 8 (note special time) at which time the installation of next year's officers will take place. Delicious refreshments brought the evening to a close, served by Mrs. Thomas Anderson, Mrs. Frank Stroker, Mrs. Robert Larson, and Mrs. James Eldridge.

"The Bride's Guide," Ann Landers' booklet, answers some of the most frequently asked questions about weddings. To receive your copy of this comprehensive guide, write to Ann Landers, in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

LANDER PLANS ANNIVERSARY BANQUET

Plans were made for the 50th anniversary banquet of the Lander High School Alumni Association at a meeting held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sears, Frewsburg, recently. The affair will take place in the Lander Parish House on June 15, at 7:30 D.S.T. Pictured here are from left to right: Mrs. Lyle Porter, secretary; Mrs. Grant Sears, president; Mrs. Harry Sarvis, toastmistress and Fred White, vice president. (Photo by Lindell)

GARDEN LOOK

Daisies tell the latest news in home decor. For the bath, new Cheinco metal wastebaskets in daisy patterns now match soft, two-ply Delsey bath tissue. Blue and green daisies on a white background, pink and orange on white and orange and gold on yellow, add new dimension to interesting bath decor. Baskets are available at supermarkets and department, chain, variety and hardware stores.

DIRTY FACE

Beauty experts are unanimous in stating that strict cleanliness does more than anything to enhance complexion beauty, but with the tremendous amount of dirt floating in the atmosphere, almost everyone has a dirty face. The beauty experts recommend a deep cleansing device, such as the Sunda Beauty Facial Machine, to cleanse pores and remove grime from all types of skin.

Interdenominational Service

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a junior in college, male, and in need of advice. Several months ago I had some serious emotional problems that resulted in the loss of my hair. My hair began to fall out in patches and then all of a sudden every remaining hair fell out of my head and I was left totally bald.

I've been seeing a doctor and he tells me my hair may grow back, and it may not. We must wait and see. In the meantime I had a toupee made and it looks pretty good. The problem is that some of the kids think I am wearing the hairpiece because I am vain and wish to conceal partial baldness. They don't realize that under that toupee is a hairless head.

Should I mention this to some of the girls who look at me in an odd way? — UNCOMFORTABLE

HISTORY OF TIDIOUTE

Where and How Pioneers Worshipped

By LOIS McCLOSKEY

The names and activities of our early pioneers is far from complete but meanwhile we pause to tell you where and how they worshipped in this newly developed area.

First mention of a minister in Tidoute in any of the records we have studied was in 1827 when a Rev. Chase visited here.

Glenn Bliss Goes to Vets Hospital

Glenn Bliss, a World War I Veteran of 97 Main st., who has passed his four score and ten, left yesterday, Thursday, April 11, for the Veterans Hospital in Erie where he will undergo intensive tests, x-rays and a general check-up following a month or so of failing health.

Bliss who enlisted in Brookville Sept. 15, 1917 was a member of the 302nd, Field Artillery and as such served as a cannoneer. He embarked for the European theatre following training at Camp Lee, Petersburg, W. Va., landed at Liverpool, England, then went to Southampton and crossed the English Channel and landed at Le Havre, France.

During his year of service there, he engaged in battles at San Michele, Chateau Thierry and the Oregon Forest. In his unit there were 190 men of whom 30 or more were killed or wounded but Bliss was fortunate to return without injuries.

For his return to the U.S.A., he embarked at Bordeaux, France, and was mustered out at Fort Dix in New Jersey, on June 15, 1919.

Bliss still has his World War I records, all of which are well preserved. During his stay in Erie he will appreciate hearing from his Tidoute friends.

Fortnightly Club to Meet
The Fortnightly Club will hold its Apr. 15 meeting at the home of Secretary, Mrs. Joe Thomas, not Mrs. Carl Thomas as stated last week. Each member is asked to bring an article for a Chinese auction. All standing committees will give their yearly reports at this meeting. The time is 8 p.m. Hostesses serving with Mrs. Thomas will be Mrs. Calvin Montgomery Jr., and Mrs. Hazle Robertson.

In the following year, (1821) he baptized 11 persons in the Presbyterian faith. In 1828 he became the first pastor of the Tidoute Presbyterian Church. This humble hut, built of logs with a dirt floor, was a far cry from our modern, well heated and air conditioned churches of today.

To ward off the chill, each parishoner carried either a hodge or shovel of live coals to the church and placed them on a central heating plant of a sort, in the middle of the dirt floor.

This first church was located near the Old Tidoute Cemetery which lies between Main and Jefferson sts., between the home of James King, (the old Henry Clark and later Vernon Gray's home,) and the home of William Kunkle who now lives in the old Marshall home.

In 1841 a more modern, framed church was built on the same site and served the congregation for about 25 years. As the population and members grew with the early oil excitement, it was necessary to build a larger church on land donated by Samuel McGuire, who perhaps owned the land on which the two previous churches were built.

This more pretentious church on Jefferson st., served the congregation for another 25 years, when they again expanded into the present Main st., building at the corner of Scott in 1893.

When they abandoned the Jefferson st., church it was purchased by the Swedish Lutherans and used for many years as such. How well we remember going to the Christmas services there with our Swedish friends.

Although most of the service was in Swedish, the tree and gifts were marvelous to behold. Every time I went there I wished that my Swedish grandmother, Ida Samuelson Mickelson, had taught me to speak the language instead of worrying about my eating right handed when I was naturally left handed. Today my knowledge of this romantic language consists of the ABC's and counting to 10 and the fact that girls are "Swenska flickas" and boys are "Swenska pikas!"

When the Swedes gave up the church it became the Tidoute school gymnasium for many years because of its high raftered cathedral ceiling. A number of years ago, Mountain Grange No. 1152 purchased the building and has continued to conduct its meetings there up to the present time.

For many years while my parents were members of the Grange, it held its meetings on the third floor of the brick building now occupied by the Laundromat. It was here that I became a junior member and enjoyed many happy evenings of feasts and square dances.

To return to the Presbyterian Church, it has had fewer pastors in its 140 years of existence than any other church in this area. Following Rev. Chase was a Mr. Hanson in the old churches. In the present church Rev. S. F. Marks, who was the minister when I first attended Sunday School there, was perhaps here for about 20 years before he retired.

His son James was for many years, coach of Kiski Preparatory School, and Miss Helen was Dean of Women at either Carnegie Tech or Chatham in Pittsburgh. We remember hearing it said of Rev. Marks that he was an excellent pastor, a poor preacher and a talented violin player, but we remember him as a friendly, dignified gentleman with a fine head of white hair and a well trimmed mustache.

A circuit rider by the name of Rev. Zachary Paddock introduced Methodism in Tidoute in 1821, but the first Methodist Society was not formed until 1823. The first members were Thomas Arters and his wife, the Anthony Cousins and a daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Richardson who resided in Limestone Twp.; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunter and Mrs. William Hunter.

Thomas Arters is to be credit-

Gene Coughlin Ends 21 Years In Service

You might say that Francis Eugene (Father) Coughlin has been practically around the world in his 21 years of service with the U. S. Army.

February 23, 1943 saw him heading for California to enter Armor Training School as a private in World War II. He then set out for the European theater and saw action in England, France and Germany, returning home in 1945.

He was called back in Aug. 1949 and sent to Japan in the Korean War. He saw action in the Taegu Perimeter, 1st, Offensive, now as a Cpl. in the 1st, Cavalry.

Returning home in April of 1951 he then went to IGMR Camp in Harrisburg from which place he returned to France for three years of regular duty, then on to Taiwan, Formosa until he was returned to Fort Belvoir, Va.

Again he saw duty in France, returned to Fort Mead for a few months, then was ordered to Korea and finally back to Fort Mead where he retired as staff sergeant in finance and accounting Dec. 1, 1967.

Gene, who is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Coughlin, 17 Second st., is presently employed by the Pennsylvania Highway Dept.

we find no reference as to whether wood or brick was used. But before it was completed it burned to the ground. However the Methodists persevered and the next year, 1873 dedicated a fine brick edifice, which is still used today. No doubt the brick came from the local brick works. The Rev. George Campbell is the present pastor but in the 142 years of the church here there have been approximately 140 ministers here.

The building of a railroad through Tidoute was the impetus for the building of a Catholic Church and school. This brought some fifty or sixty Irish Catholics to the area who built both a church and a school in their spare time.

St. John's Roman Catholic Church was dedicated in June, 1866 as a mission of St. Joseph's Church in Corry. Its first pastor was Father Francis McSwiney, appointed in Dec. of the same year, although the church and rectory were not completed until 1870 and dedicated by a Father J. P. McCloskey, an uncle of my father, the late Joseph McCloskey. The school, St. John's Academy, was operated for just about eight years. By then most of the Irish had moved away and the school eventually became an apartment house until it was razed many years ago.

Today the Catholics have a modern structure built of native stone with much of the construction furnished by parishioners. It was dedicated in 1942. The old rectory was then removed and by 1951 there was a new rectory fitting of the times. All of this renovation and building was done during the time The Rev. Jacobs served as pastor. As a result of all the extra effort and traveling, Father Jacob's health declined and he passed away in 1960 after serving in this parish for 19 years. The Rev. Arthur Fleckenstein has the parish now which serves both Tidoute and Tionesta.

The next church to be built here was the Universalist in 1868. It was discontinued many years ago and eventually purchased by the Order of Eastern Star. In 1941 it was purchased from the order and became the present Baptist Church in 1942. It started with just 22 members. It is located on the left side of Main st., the last building west of McGuire Run. The present pastor is Rev. Wm. Irvin whose manse is on Jefferson st.

The last early church standing was the Episcopalian at the corner of Elm and First sts. It was dedicated in 1872 with the Rev. S. J. Dickson as pastor. After standing idle for many years the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church took over the church. It too was discontinued in the 1950's. Last year the Order of Free Masons of the Tidoute area purchased the building for a Lodge and have now almost completed renovation, preparatory to its 100th anniversary in June.

Tidioute History

researcher has never made a misstatement. At this time we have two corrections to make. We neglected to mention Guy Courson who is a grandson of Benjamin Courson, the son of pioneer Anthony Courson who brought his family here in 1825. Guy Courson is the only living uncle of Wayne Benjamin Courson of 333 Main St. Guy lives in what was once the L. L. Buorquin home and perhaps was a part of his grandfather's tract at one time.
The other error: Mrs. Edna Benner is not the daughter of Capt. Robert Taggart but is his granddaughter. Her grandmother was Capt. Taggart's second wife, she was a widow, who had one daughter when she married him. Capt. Taggart had no daughters of his own and just one adopted son, John Taggart.

Who Are the Looters? Hoodlums? Often They're Solid Citizens

Who were the looters? Who tossed the fire bombs? In the aftermath of the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., racial violence struck more than 100 cities. Whole blocks went up in flames and hundreds of stores were stripped of everything that could be carried out.

"The hoodlums didn't," said a Baltimore pharmacist whose drug store in a Negro neighborhood was struck three times.

That seems to be a general assumption—but arrest records in a sampling of cities often run counter to this belief.

In Washington, interviews by the District of Columbia Ball Agency disclosed that a number of those arrested could be called solid citizens of the community. The city-run agency interviewed 1,200 persons 18-and-over by Tuesday afternoon.

"A much larger percentage of them are working," said an interviewer. "A lot of them have jobs—good jobs, some of them for their education level."

What did this indicate to him? "I guess it means a lot of people who normally don't commit crimes were out there in those stores grabbing stuff along with the rest."

In Pittsburgh last Sunday, well-dressed, laughing, wise-cracking Negroes poured into the stores. One man got to a supermarket late and could find only a huge coffee grinder.

Lugging it out of the store, he turned to a friend and said, "I don't know what I'm going to do with it, but opportunity strikes only once."

Sam Devine, owner of a shoe store in Chicago, was surprised Monday when a 15-year-old Negro walked into his store, returned a pair of shoes and apologized for taking them. "His folks must have told him to return them," Devine said. "It was really something nice."

But in Memphis, where it all started a week ago, police said the typical rioter was 24, most likely unemployed and with a one-in-four chance of having a police record.

Of 103 persons arrested in Memphis for looting, 39 were over 17 years and 30 were women. Three were 6-year-olds, who were released. One officer said, "They are only babies and were simply following the bad examples set by grownups."

The average rioter in Youngstown, Ohio, was said by police to be between 19 and 21, unemployed, and often had a police or juvenile record. Most are school dropouts from low-income families.

In Cincinnati, the city prosecutor's office described most of those arrested as "youngsters out to raise a little hell."

The Washington Post analyzed data on 119 persons processed by the District of Columbia Ball Agency—which does not handle juveniles—and found that 49 had not gone beyond the 10th grade. There were 27 high school graduates, 9 with some college and 2 college graduates. Only 13 were unemployed. Of those employed, 14 were construction workers, 10 were janitors, 11 worked for the federal government and 5 for the Post Office Department.

Baltimore Mayor Thomas J. D'Alesandro III estimated that only about 3,000 persons of the city's 910,000 population were actively involved in the disturbance there.

"King's death didn't really cause this stuff," said Marion Barry, an official of Pride, Inc., a Washington organization that landed a federal grant last year to employ youths in cleaning up trash-filled lots.

"Oh, probably some understood who King was and what was going on, but a lot of the guys out there in the street didn't," he said. "There are a number of factors. The Negro's cup fills up fast. It just overflowed then, that's all."

"Some of the guys probably said, 'I've been messed over, now I'm going to get even.' So they hit the stores. Others probably figured, 'Well, everyone else is getting some, I might as well get some, too.'"

Among five persons arrested on Chicago's West Side Tuesday and charged with arson were Edward "Fats" Crawford, 46, president of the National Negro Rifle Association, a group with the announced purpose of teaching self-defense to Negroes, and Frederick Andrews, 29, an organizer of the Garfield Organization, a Negro self-help group.

Police Supt. James Conlisk said Andrews preached "violence and the overthrow of lawful authority." Bond was set at $120,000 each. Both men were unsuccessful candidates for aldermen from the West Side.

But everywhere, young people, teen-agers, even children, participated in the disturbances in large numbers.

BUSINESS BUILDINGS BURN

Kansas City police take cover behind a car from sniper fire as a block of business buildings burns out of control. There has been widespread looting throughout the country where racial violence has flared up. Commonly thought to be the work of hoodlums, investigation shows that too often it is rather the work of those who seek to grab something when the opportunity presents itself.

Penn-Sheraton Hotel To Be Sold

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Penn-Sheraton Hotel will be sold, but to whom and for what purpose still was not clear after an announcement of the sale was made Thursday.

Open House Planned

Polk State School and Hospital will hold Open House from 1 to 4 p.m. on April 30, May 1 and May 2 in recognition of National Mental Health Week and Month. Eight separate tours with employees as guides can accommodate unlimited numbers of visitors. All phases of the training school and hospital are available for visitation and include living areas of patients, school and activity areas, medical and nursing services, dietary preparation, farm operations, maintenance shops and administrative offices.

Mayor Joseph M. Barr said the hotel, largest in the state, had been sold tentatively to a New York real estate firm. But he said the Sheraton Corp. of Boston told him the New York buyers gave no commitment the building would be used as a hotel.

Barr said that terms of the sale gave the Sheraton Corp. time to negotiate another deal with buyers who would use it as a hotel.

The Penn-Sheraton has been closed since October because of a strike, cutting into Pittsburgh's convention business and putting a severe squeeze on hotel accommodations in the city.

Barr quoted Sheraton Board Chairman Richard Boonisar as saying the corporation has "reserved the right for a limited period of time to withdraw from that sale and complete another sale to a distinguished group of Pittsburgh businessmen who have offered to purchase the property and use it as a hotel."

Boonisar said terms have been reached with the Pittsburgh group. He said all that remained was for the would-be buyers to reach agreement with labor to close that deal.

Congress Takes 2nd Recess; Faces Knotty Problems Later

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress starts Friday its second recess of 1968, with a major civil rights bill its top accomplishment of the year to date.

Some knotty problems will confront members when they settle down for business again on April 22.

The House won't meet again until then. The Senate has scheduled a session for next Wednesday.

The civil rights measure, featured by an open housing provision to curb racial discrimination in most housing sales and rentals, was sent to President Johnson by the House on Wednesday. The Senate passed it March 11.

Otherwise, both branches have adopted ethics codes aimed at curbing conflicts of interests through limited disclosure of outside financial interests. No further action is needed on them.

Also enacted was legislation to remove the partial gold cover on paper currency.

Both also have passed, in different form, tax increase bills and legislation designed to require disclosure of interest and credit charges to borrowers and buyers. These bills are in Senate-House conferences and top the major legislation now pending.

The gap between the separate tax bills is almost oceanwide.

What started out in the House as a bill to continue auto and telephone excise taxes at existing rates was converted by the Senate into a major general revenue measure. The Senate version includes a 10 percent income tax surcharge and a mandatory ceiling on government spending.

The House, jealous of its prerogatives in the revenue field, has balked at the Senate action, its position in the budget battle is that taxes shouldn't be hiked until the administration volunteers some deep cuts in planned spending.

Only one of the dozen or more annual money bills has started through Congress. Financing the Treasury and Post Office departments, it has passed the House only.

The Senate has passed a congressional reorganization bill which the House thus far has ignored. The House has passed a bill to help local law enforcement agencies cope with crime. It is now before the Senate.

There has been no action, except for committee consideration, on legislation dealing with aid for higher education, Firearms control and continuation of the foreign aid program.

These are some of the problems awaiting solution in the months ahead.
